Hail to Alma Mater, . our school, our life,
Hail to our dear Boyden, through storm and strife

Miss Ida Gordner offers ready suggestions to Jo Gardner about our Yellow Jacket as Luther Sowers waits to question a puzzling Latin phrase.

Guiding as we shine on high,
Striving 'til we do or die

Apprehension, tense waiting, exuberance . . . these were part of many reactions shown by our cheering sections.

Singing as we march ever onward, ever high.

Kneeling reverently before the altar, Henry Hilliard symbolizes the unending quest of students for guidance.

To succeed as citizens, this is our creed, to Leading the student body, the council tackles all problems with the usual interest and zest of Congressmen solving questions of national importance.

PEGGY McLARTY
D.A.R. Good Citizen
NHS State Secretary

succeed as citizens, This will be our deed

Your last Junior-Senior, the night to be remembered all your lives, as the close of the Senior year.

Balloons, crepe paper and paint add up to a gift from the Juniors the Seniors can never forget.

Forward, upward, shine on high,

We try to live each day in such a way

That when tomorrow makes today a yesterday

We will have woven into the fabric of our lives

Some patch of color, bright to please the eye,

When all the quick responsive senses dull

We may look back across the patterns of our lives

And in our memories, live the joys and pains of all our yesterdays.

(Thoughts from the 1956 Pemican)

Always looking ahead . . . Barbara Jean Heffner represents the search for answers to questions concerning the future.

The first day of school—the beginning! Bill Monroe wastes little time in "welcoming" unsuspecting freshmen to BHS.

Leading, heeding, 'til we die.

This senior boy and girl looking skyward typify the future . . .

Singing as we march the search for more and better things to come . . . to those who are willing to work.

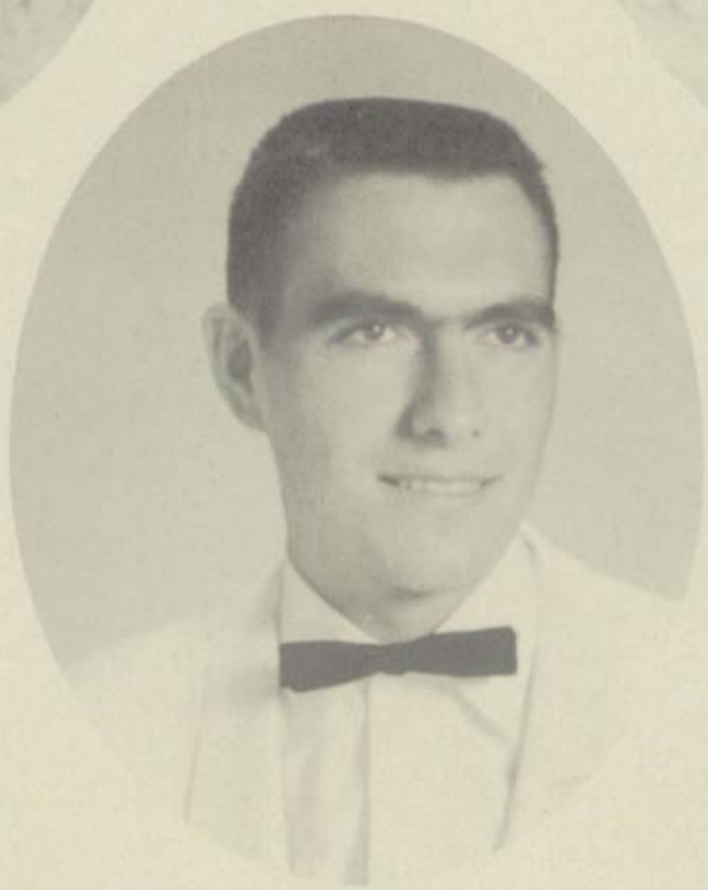
The 1957 Senior Class

To what we gave our all we bid farewell . . . Thank you, BHS, for all you have given us . . . thank you, underclassmen, for your courtesy in allowing us to leave the auditorium first . . . thank you, Juniors, for a lovely Junior-Senior . . . and thank you, Mrs. Gaston, our beloved advisor, for the interest you have shown in us individually . . . thank you, faculty, for your vital help in making us the citizens of tomorrow . . . Now with tears in our eyes, fond memories lingering in our hearts, and the realization that we may never meet again, we the class of '57, bid you, Boyden High School, farewell.

Senior Class

Sarah Bland Aldredge
Her fingers bewitched the cords as they passed along the ivory keys

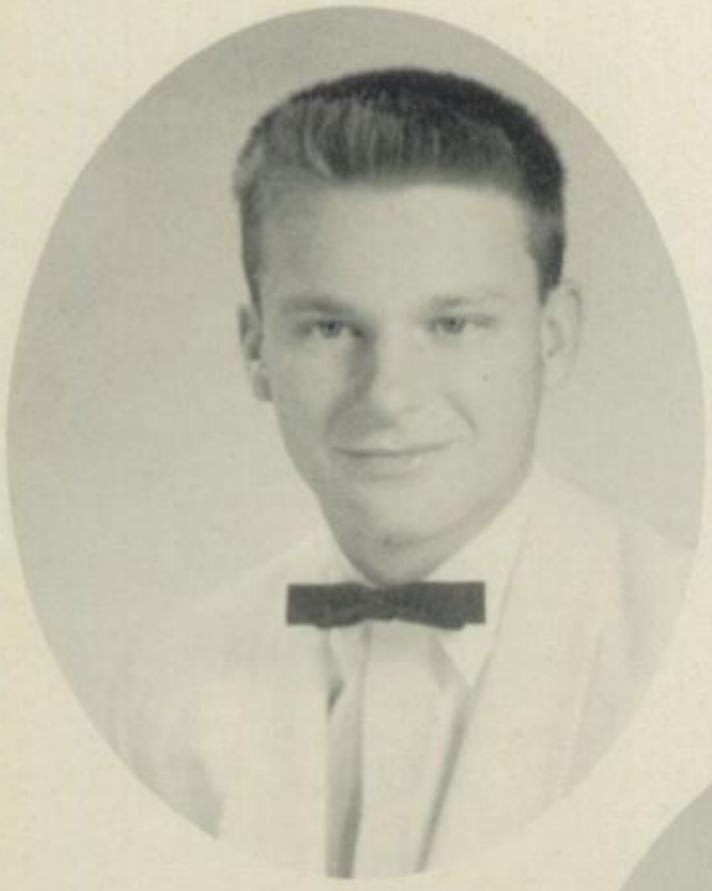
Rachel Elizabeth Allen
The hand that hath made you fair hath made you good.



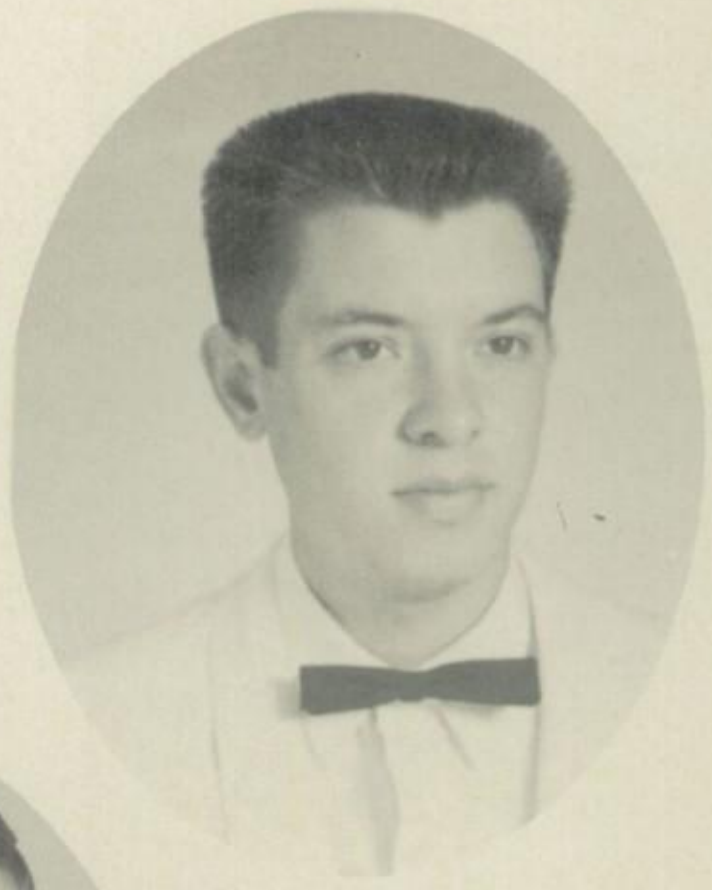
Fred Grant Anderson
The only conclusive evidence of a man's sincerity is that he gave himself for a principle.

Suzanne Ramsey Anderson
An eye for art, a taste for style; she has an artist's breeding.

Elizabeth Marie Arey
Happiness is a perfume you cannot give to others without spilling a few drops on yourself.



Ervin Lee Armour
He has a smile for everyone he meets, a laugh for every joke he hears.



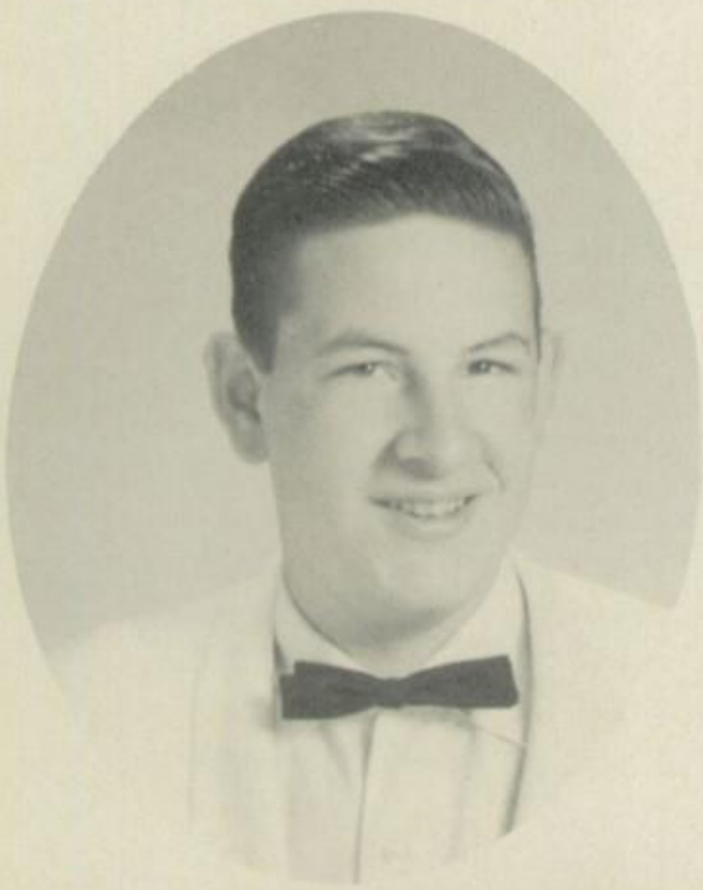
Edward Wayne Bame
And I'll endeavor deeds to match my words.

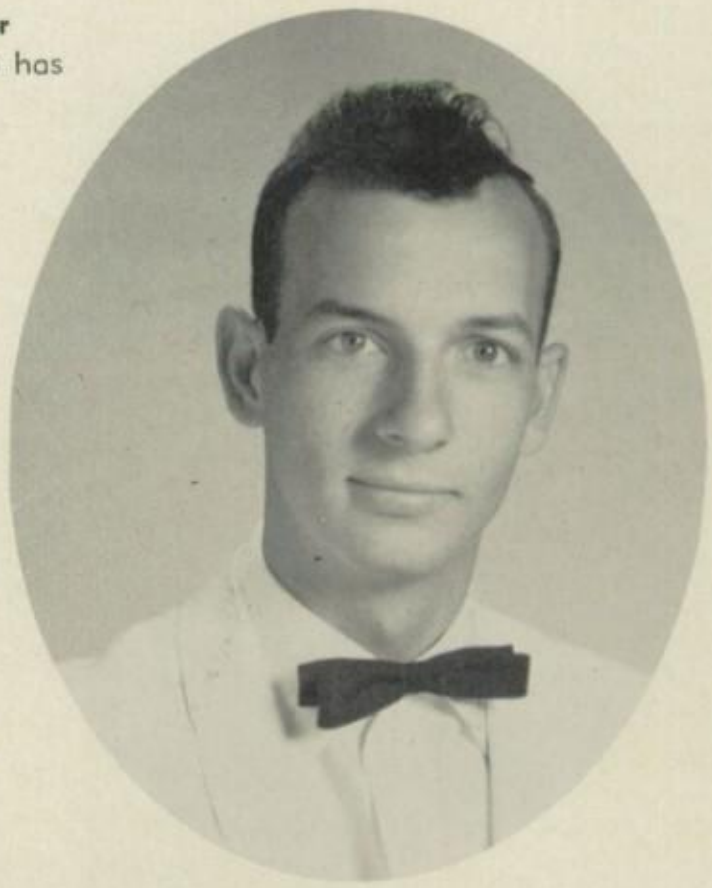
Senior

Jerry Lee Barringer
Not too serious, not too gay, but a jolly good fellow in every way.

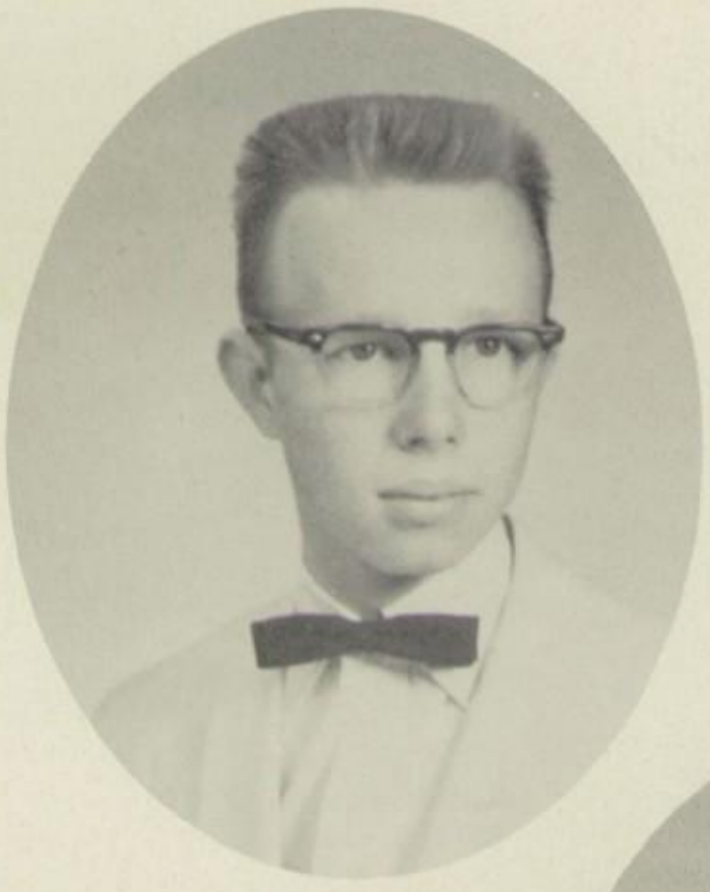
Elsworth Ernest Barrington
The rule of my life is to make business a pleasure and pleasure my business.

Ralph Morton Barker
A quiet gentleman, who has his share of humor.

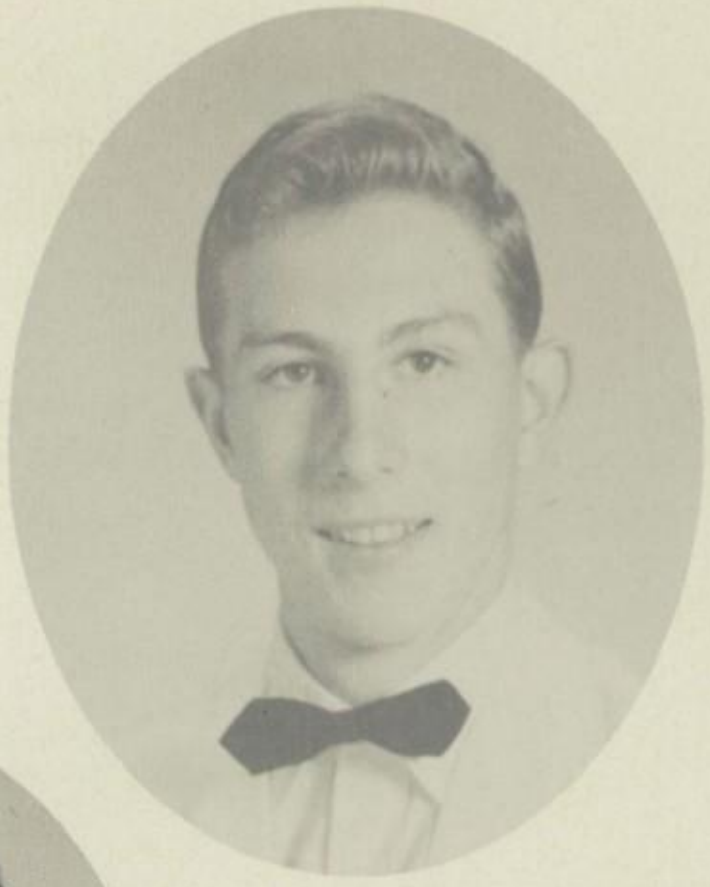




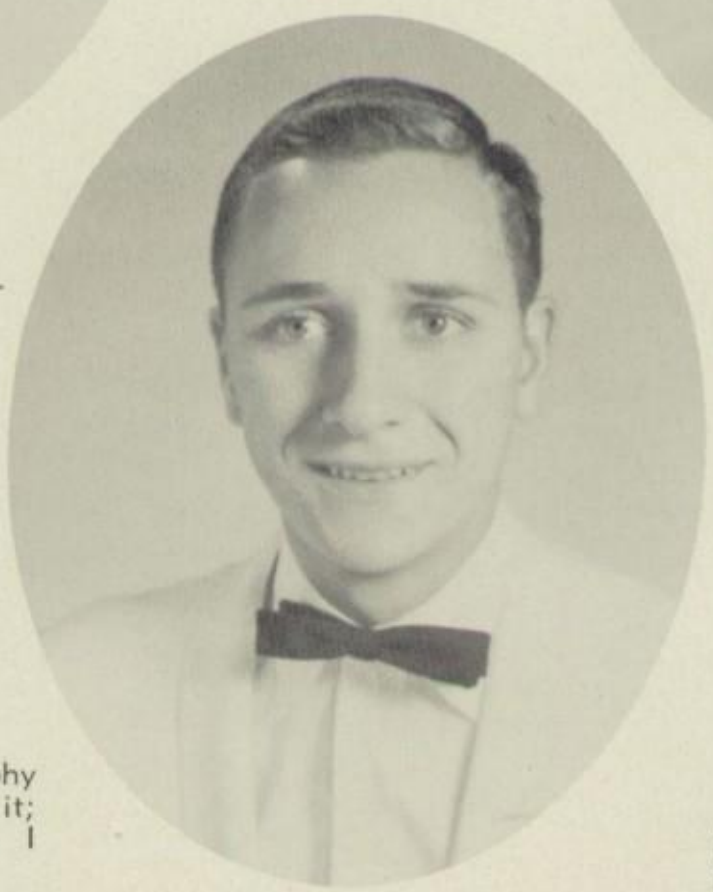
Class



Jerry Lewis Bassinger
There is charm and playfulness in his talking.



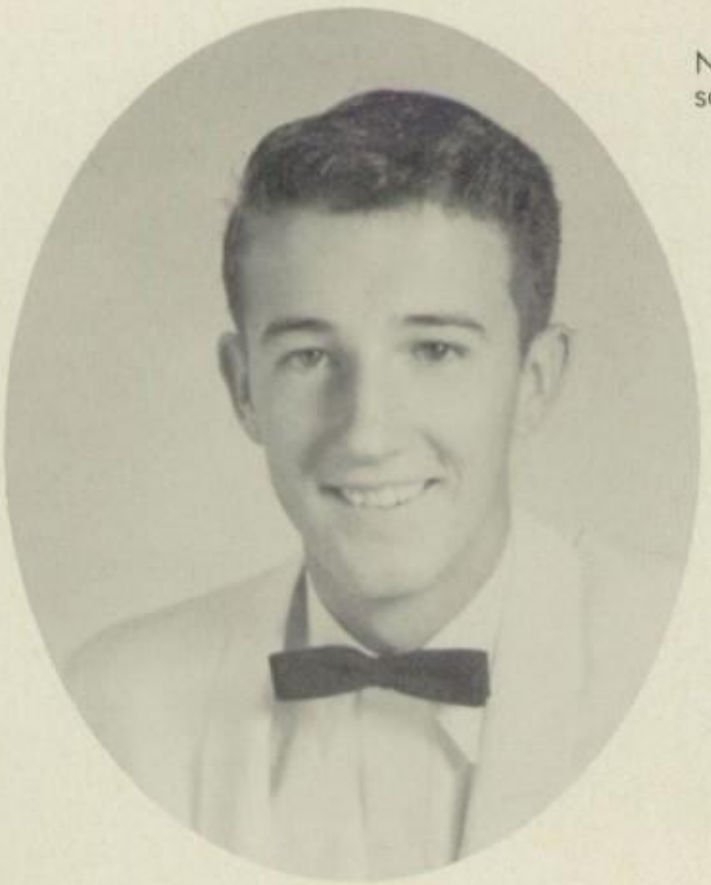
Robert Linn Bernhardt, III
There is not a moment without some duty, and I shall see mine done as best I can.

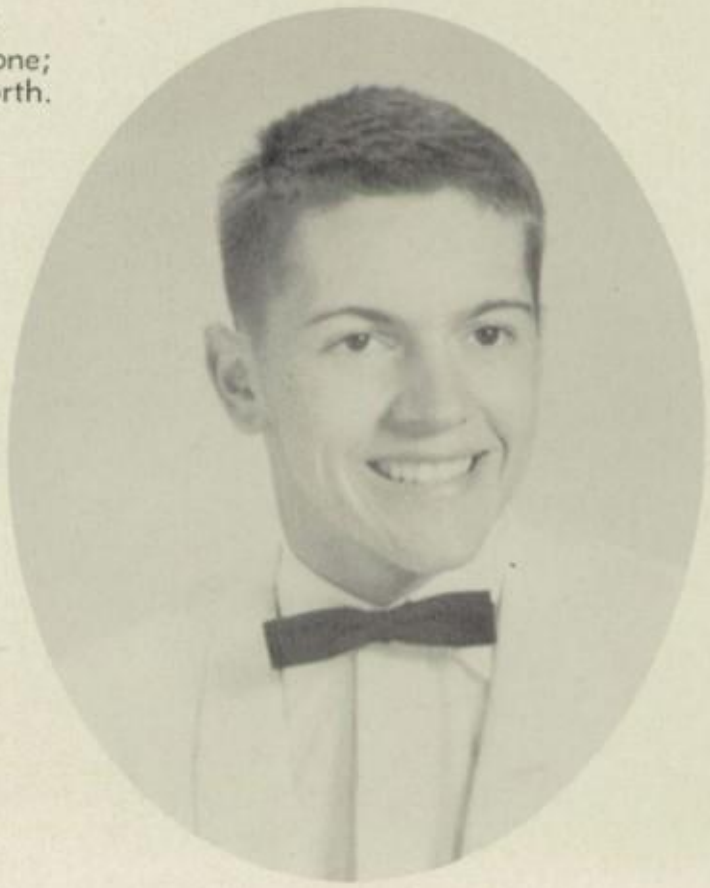


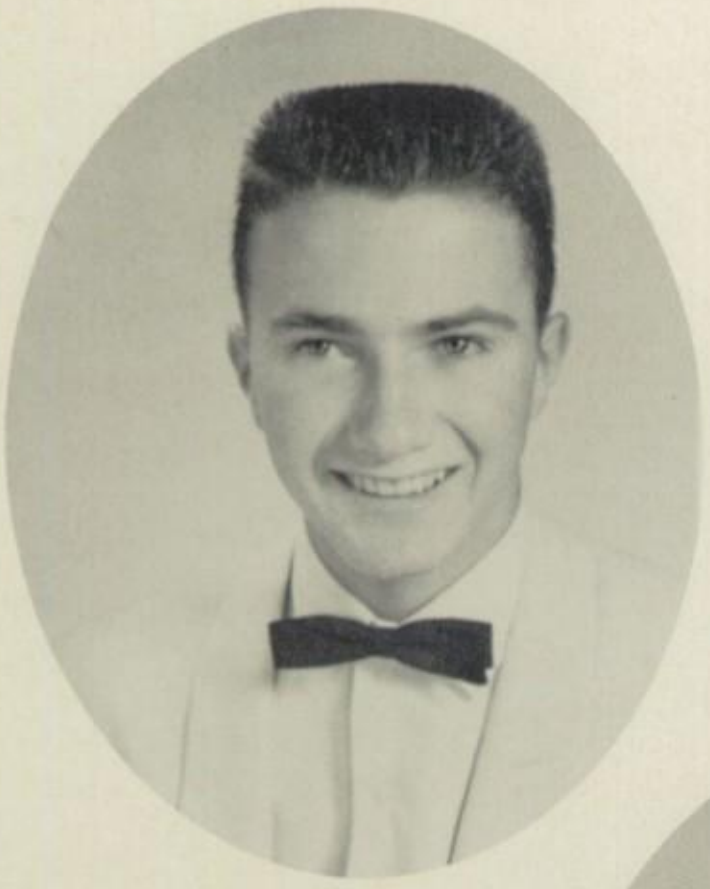
Burl H. Brady
I have my own philosophy of life; I made it; I live it; and I change it when I please.

Joseph Gaddy Blake
No sooner said than done; so acts your man of worth.

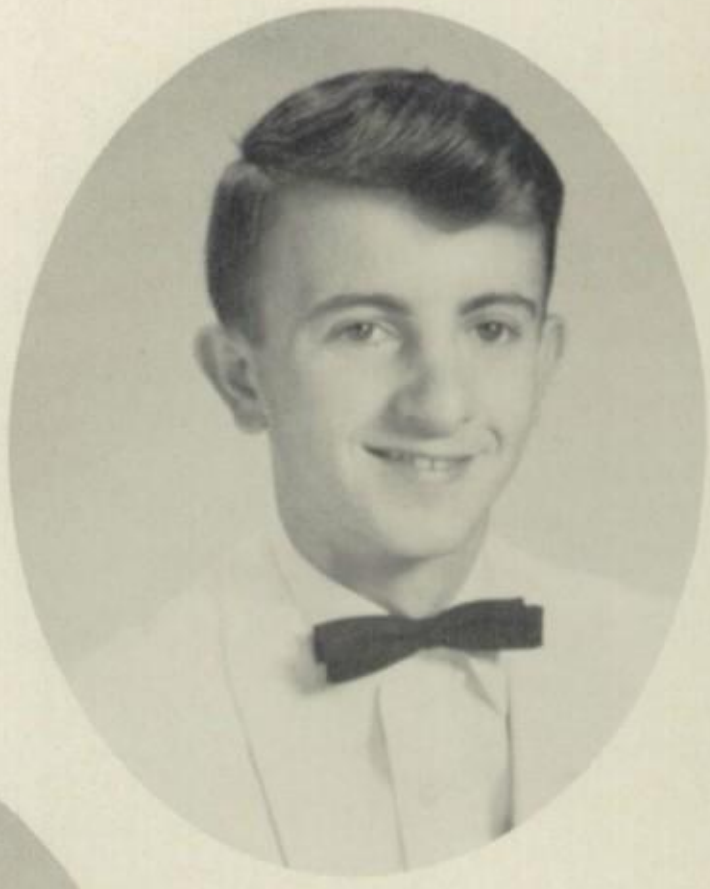
Olney Joseph Brown, Jr.
His resolve is not to seem the bravest, but to be.



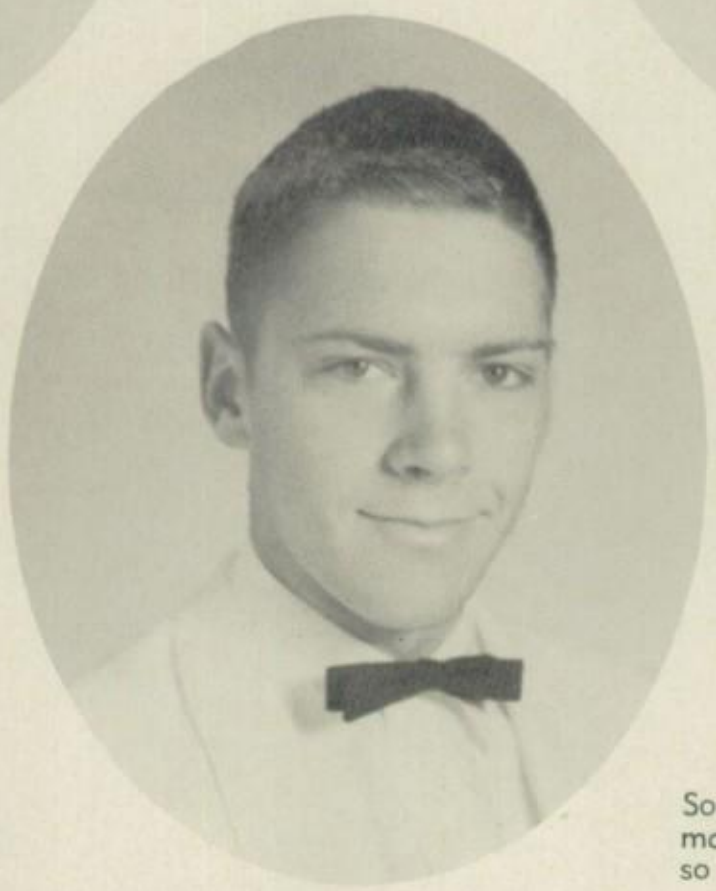




James Stephen Browning
He has the quality of being a good scholar and a good mixer among men.



Gary Ronald Burleson
Let them call it mischief; when it's past and prospered 'twill be virtue.

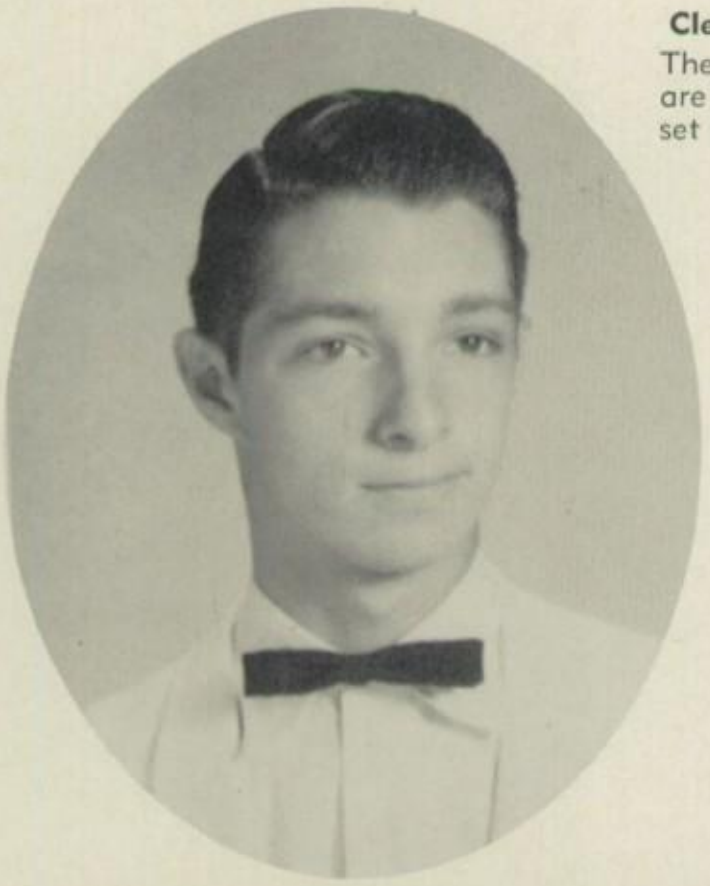


Senior

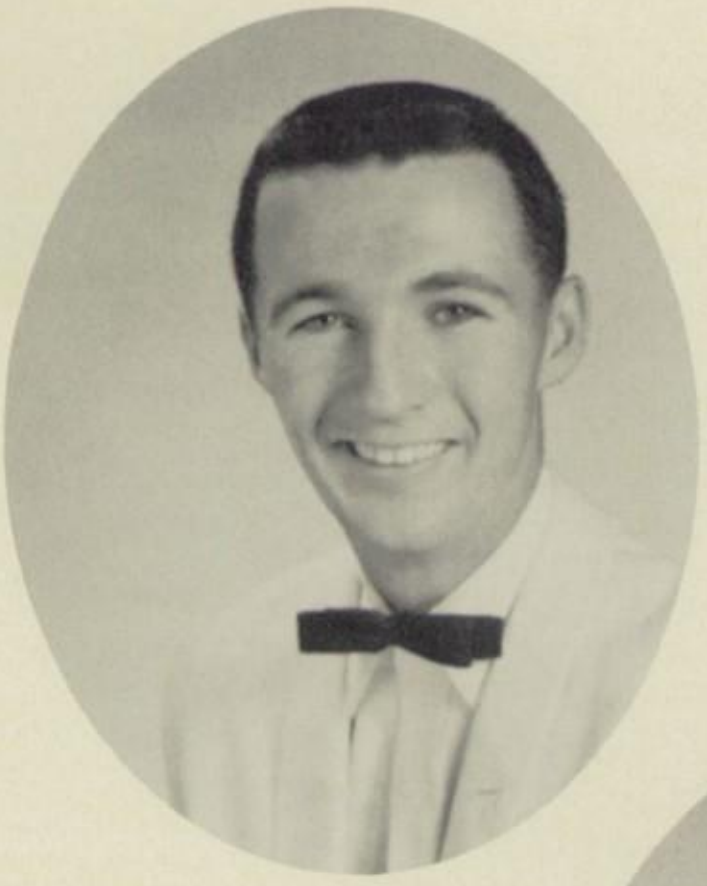
Richard Edward Cashwell
There is a time for speaking and a time of being quiet.

Irene Lynne Chambers
Some think the world is made for fun and frolic, and so do I.

Cleveland E. Campbell, Jr.
The best and noblest men are those whose lives are set toward high ideals.



Class



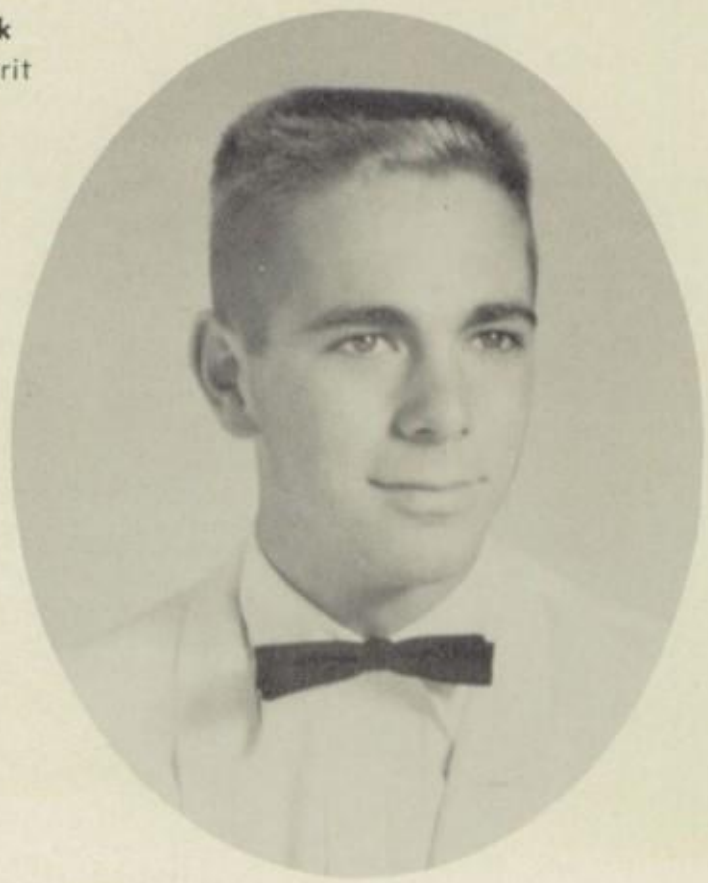
Mitchell Lee Chapman
Cuteness and wit—the best combination known to man.

Gisela Joanne Clark
Serene amidst the savage waves.

Laura Ann Clemence
Hang worry! Care will kill a cat, so therefore let's be merry.

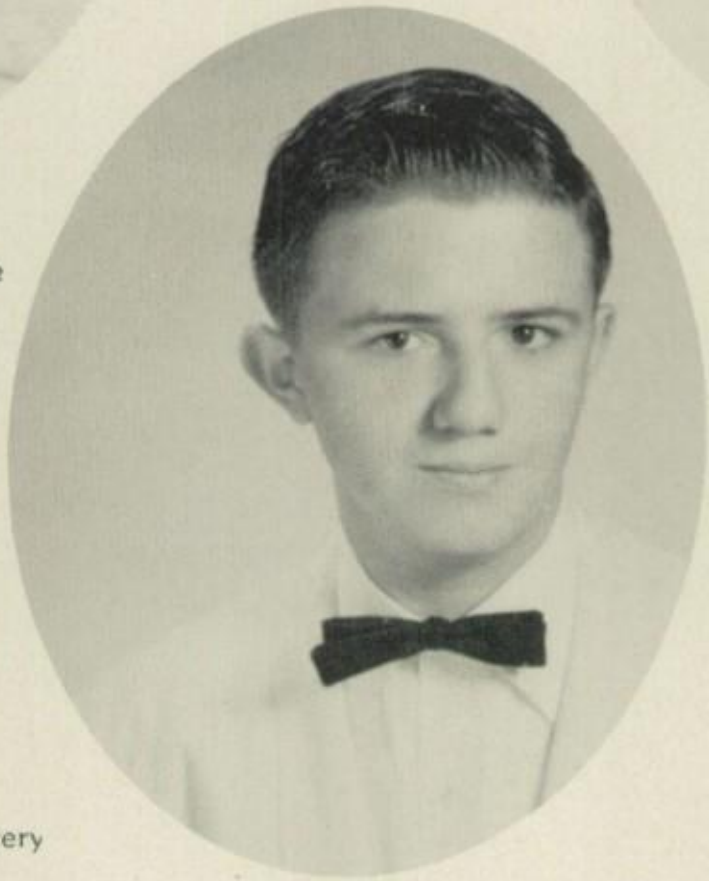
Axel Osmond Clough
To heck with books; experience is the best teacher!

Stanley Christopher Clark
The force of his own merit makes his way.



Annyce Jean Coe
Music has been called the speech of angels.

Robert L. Cook, Jr.
Full of the makings of a fine and great man.



Senior

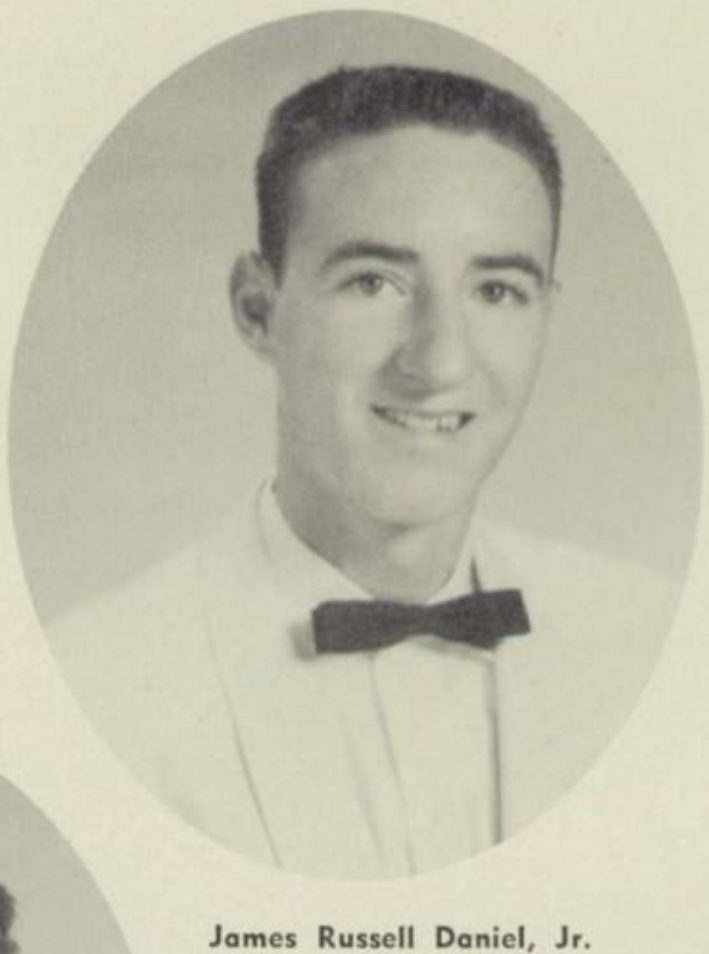
Life may be dull but never he.



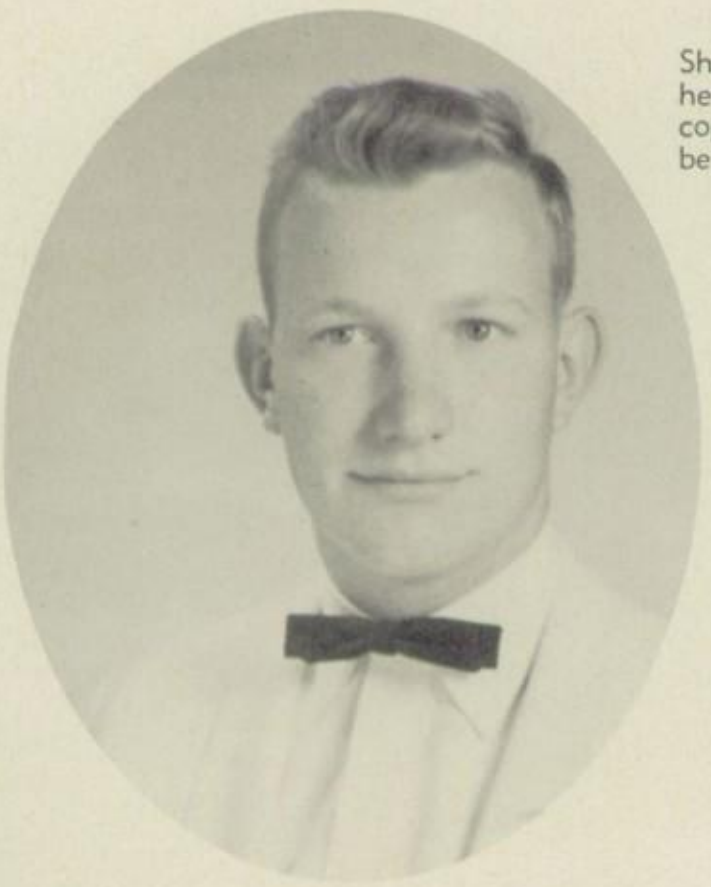
James Russell Daniel, Jr.
For they can conquer who believe they can.

Class

John Potts Davis, Jr.
A big man, a full heart, a hearty laugh.

Betty Jean Davis
She has a smile that's all her own; a grin that no one copies; a laugh that can't be matched for mirth.

Loretta Jane Deadmon
She is full of bounty, worth, and virtue.



Charles William Dedmon, Jr.

Some things I like; some things I don't; and the rest doesn't bother me.

Frances Naomi Dixon

In every activity you may depend on her to do her part and more.

James Allan Dunn, Jr.

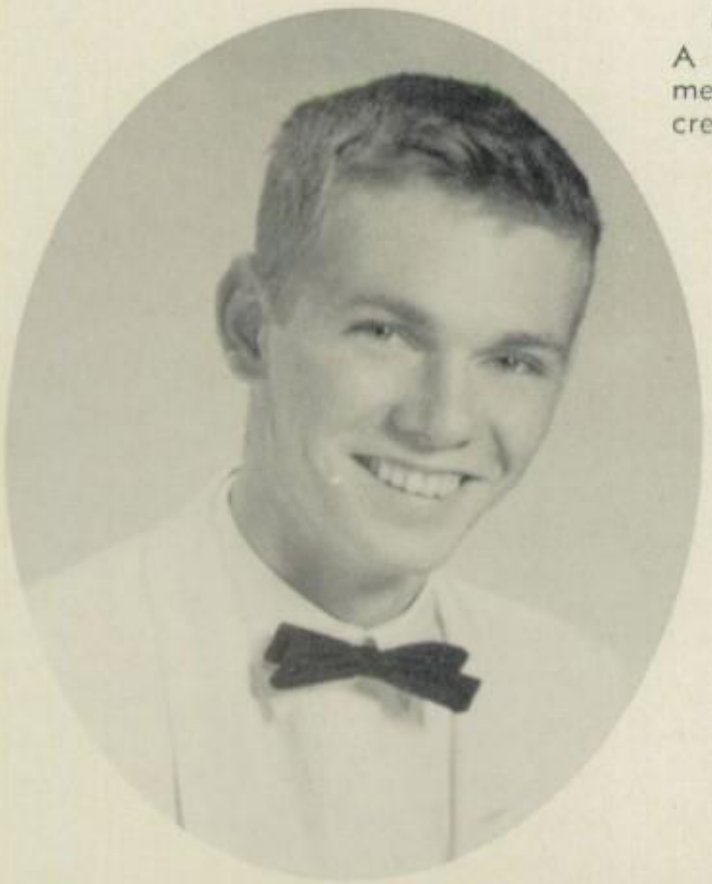
I never try to be funny as I am. It just comes natural.

John Michael Dunham

A man in earnest finds means; or if he cannot find, creates them.

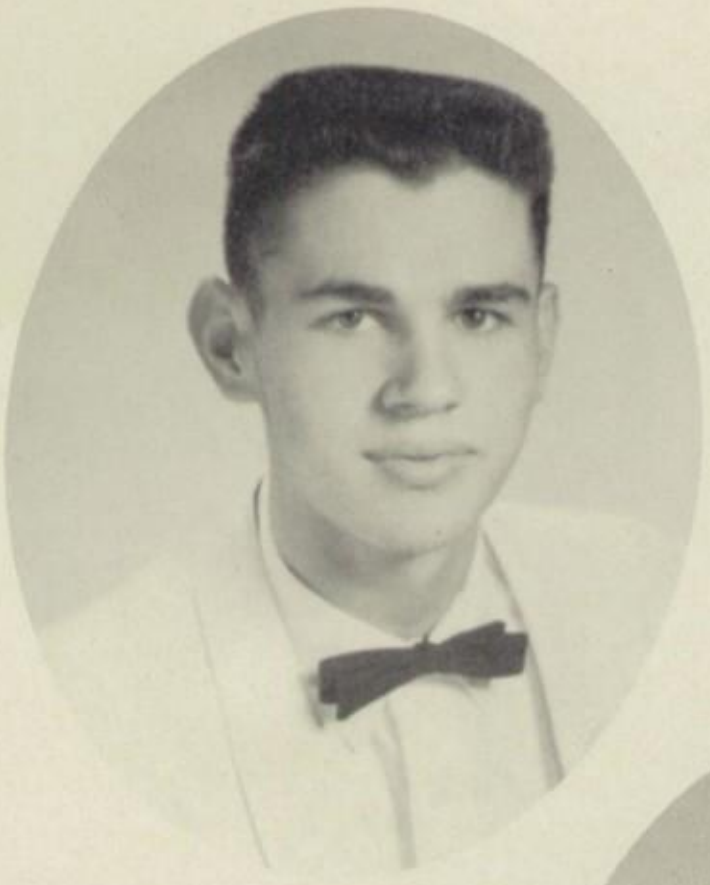
Billie Ann Eagle

Modesty and unselfishness —these are the virtues which men praise.



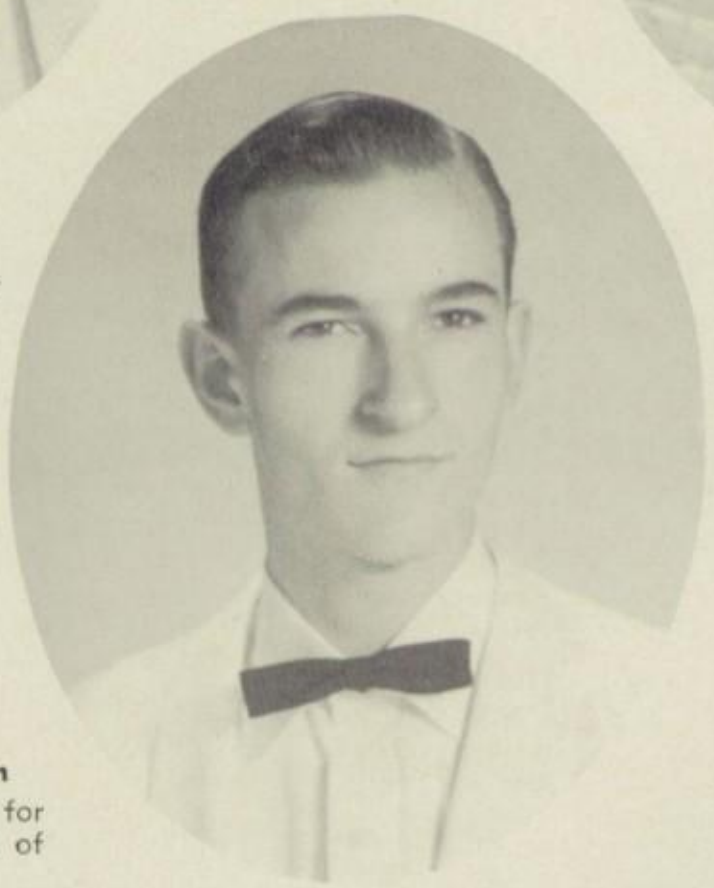
Senior

Class



Carl Ray Eagle
I try all things; I achieve what I can.

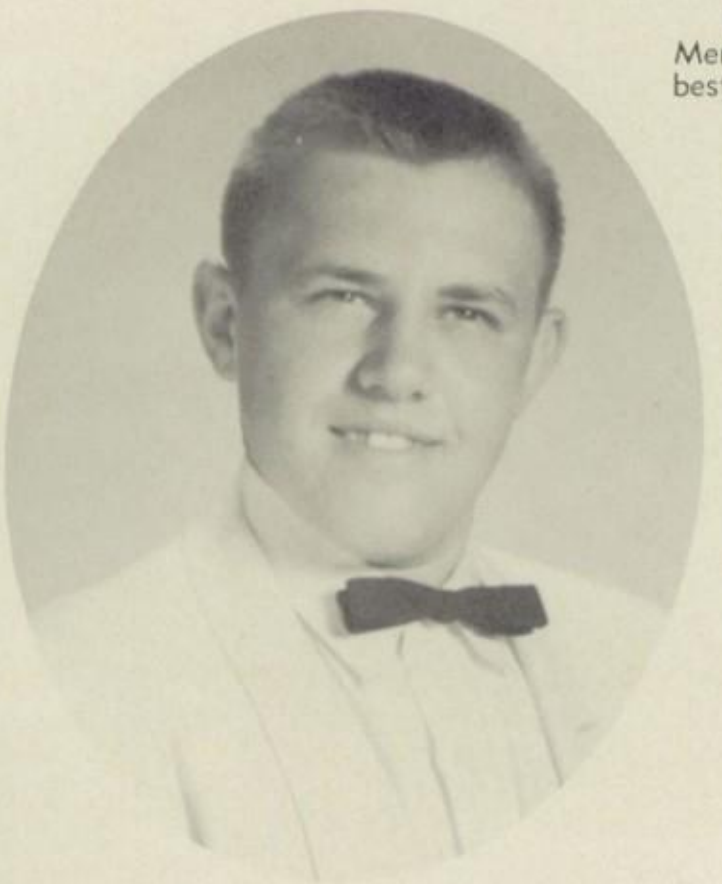
Annie Ruth Eller
All succeeds with people who are sweet and cheerful.



James Willard Emerson
He is always laughing, for he has an infinite deal of wit.

Raymond Dale Elliott
Men of few words are the best men.

Ruth Elaine Evans
There is no greater delight than to be conscious of sincerity.



Luke Llewlyn Farmer, Jr.
His words and thoughts were all his own.

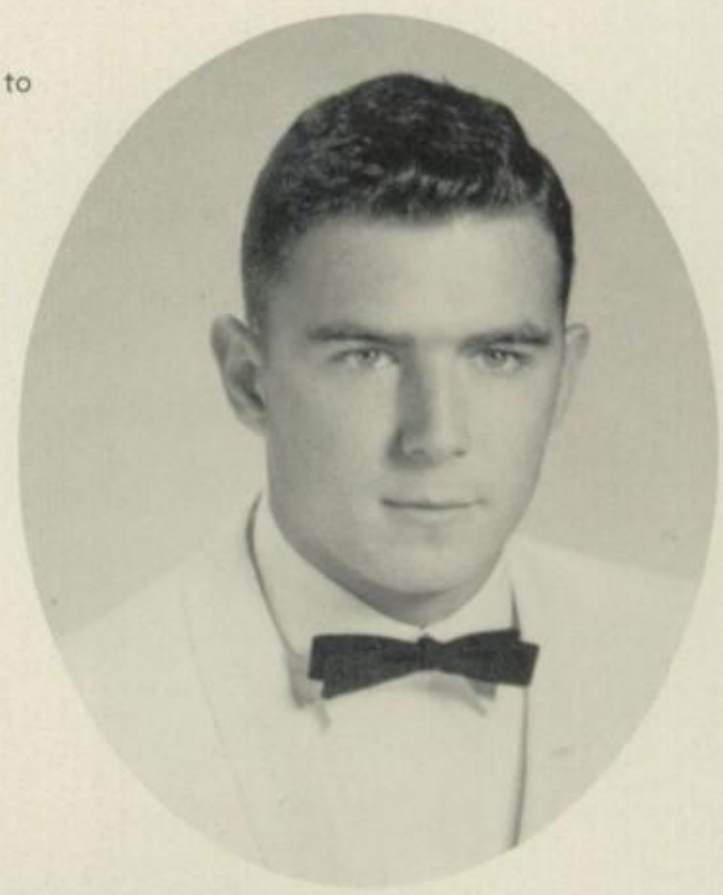
Mary Elizabeth Freeman
The mind to conceive, the understanding to direct, and the hand to execute.

Senior

Josephine Glenn Gardner
She counts the day lost whose low descending sun
Views from her hand no worthy action done.

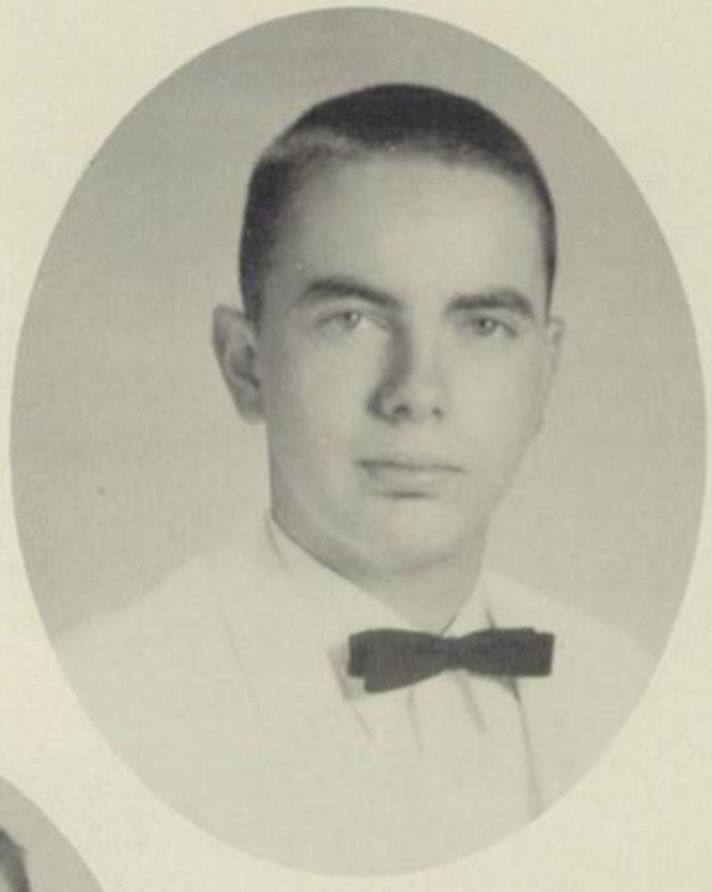
Thomas Edgar Gardner
He who does not love work, play, and song
Remains a fool his whole life long.

William Lee Fulton
A genius when it comes to sports.

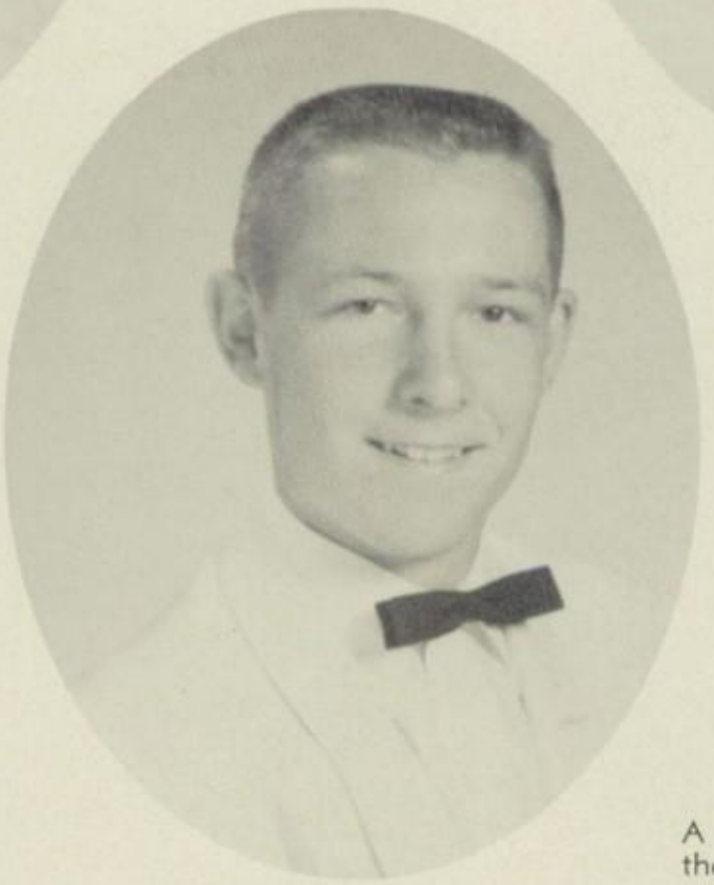


Class

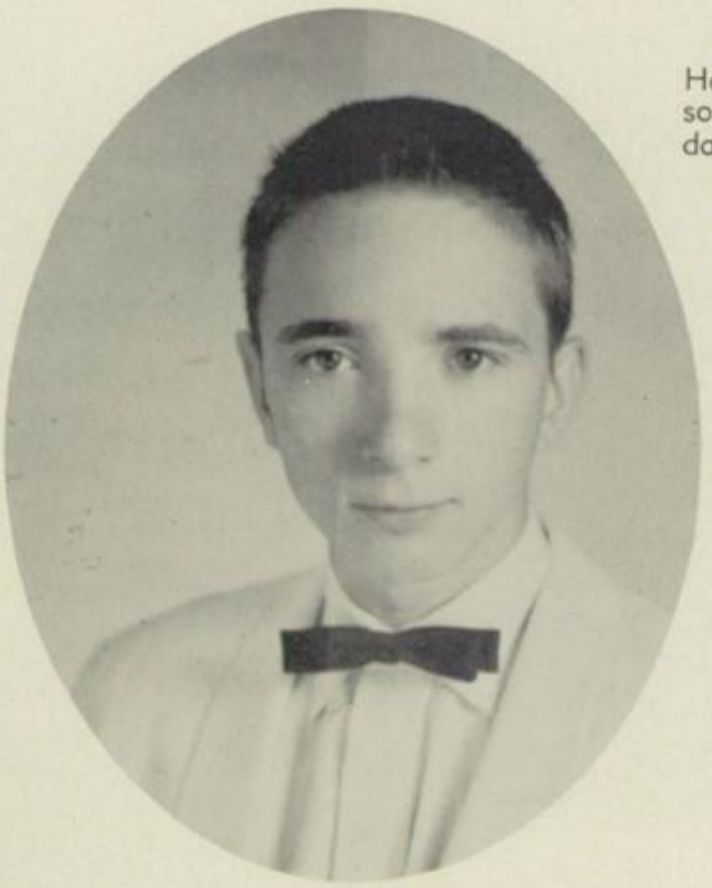
Terry Kluttz Gibbs
A good wife is the greatest blessing a man could hope for.



Charles Hilbert Glover, Jr.
Nothing is achieved until it is thoroughly attempted.



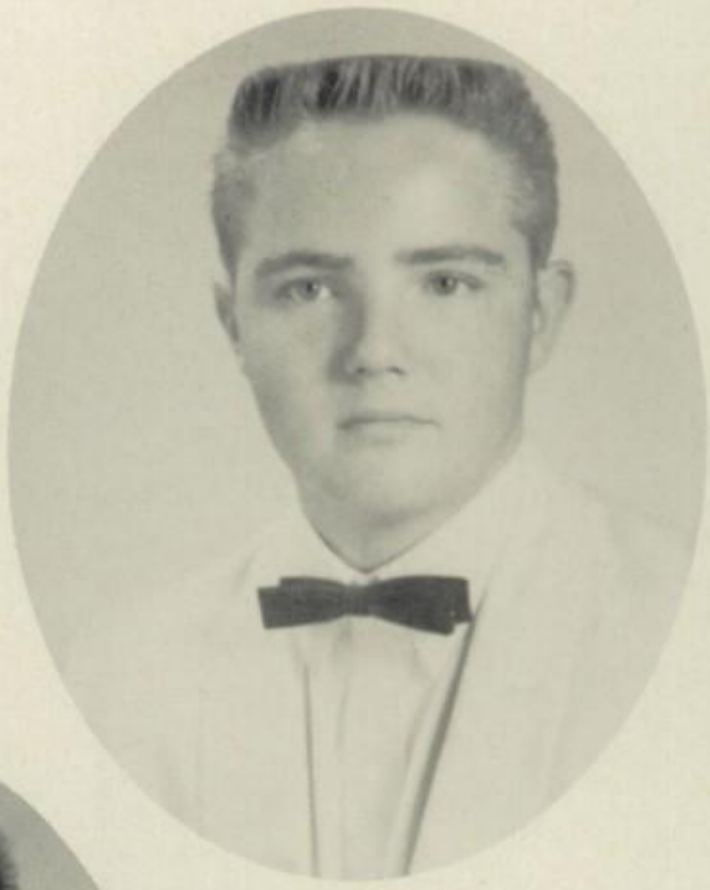
Paul T. Gray, Jr.
Genius is essentially creative and the mark of an individual.



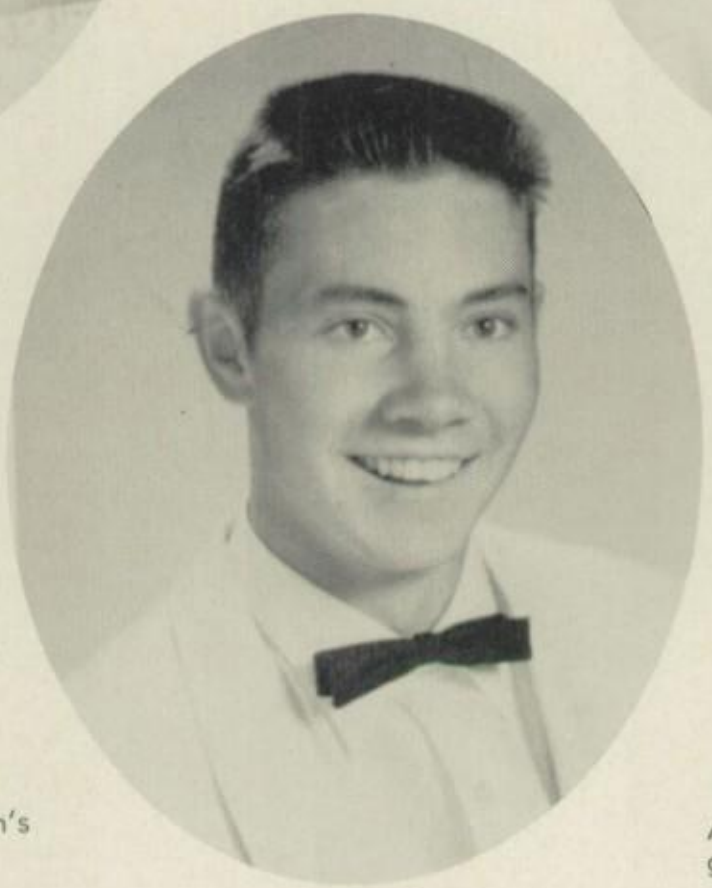
Myron Arthur Goodman
He never came a wink too soon, nor brought too long a day.

Eleanor Mae Grist
A kind heart is worth all the world.

Joan Kay Guthrie
Happiness is a habit—cultivate it well.



Lawrence Thomas Hamilton
Singers are merry and free from sorrow and care.

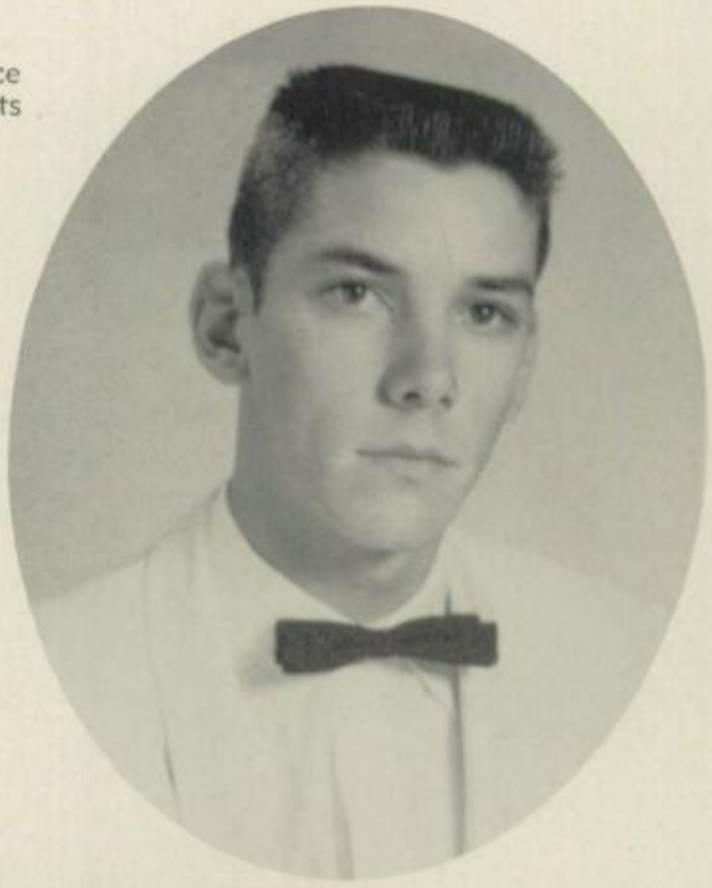


Senior

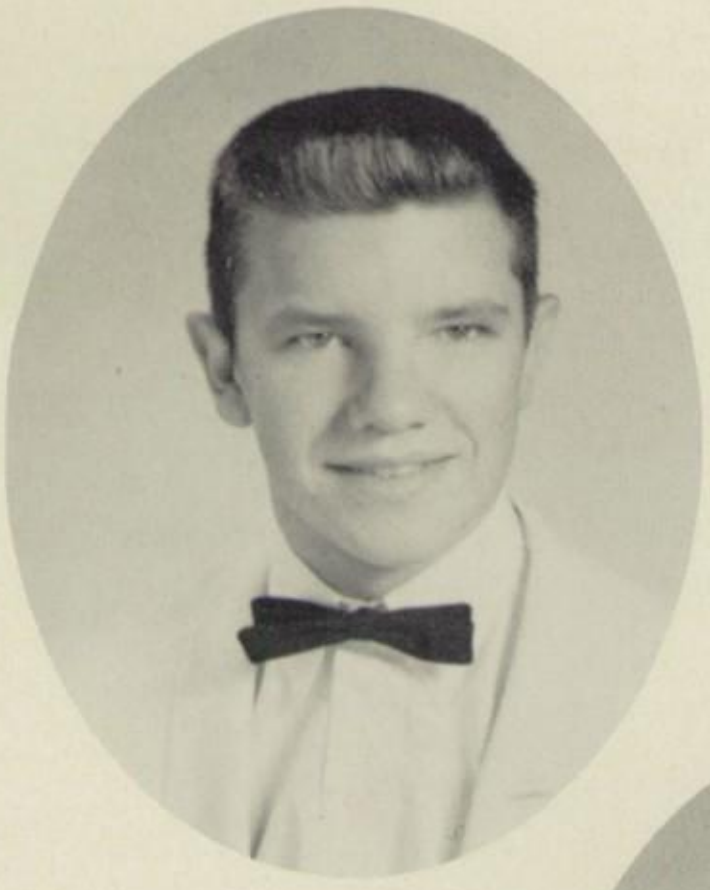
Nora Judith Harrelson
Lovely hair is a woman's crowning glory.

Herbert Wayne Harrington
A strong determination to get the most out of life.

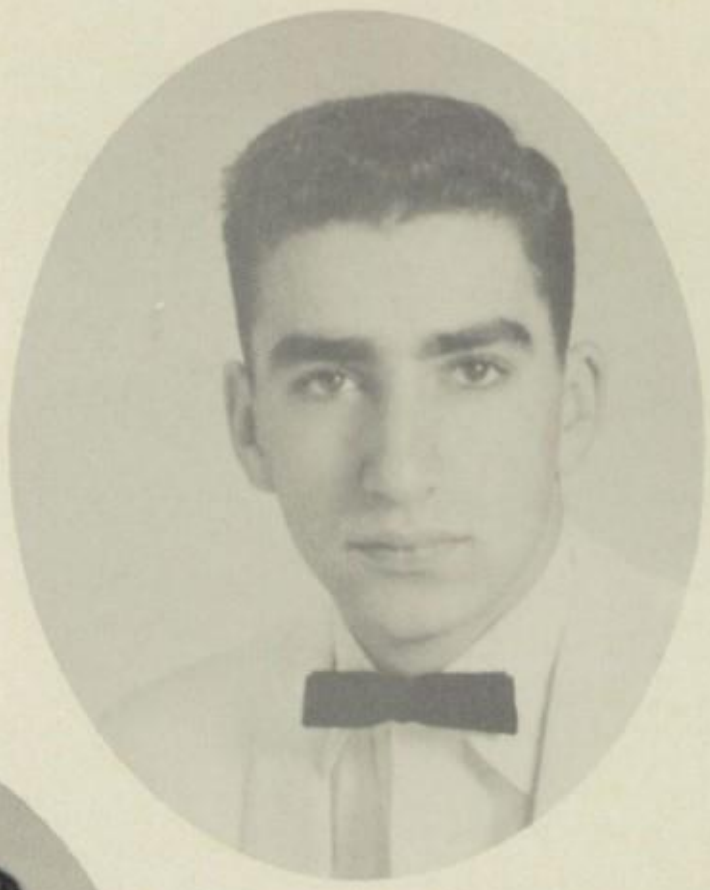
Ted Allen Hamilton
Character and personal force are the only investments that are worth anything.



Class



William Michael Harris
Suppress me if you can! I am a merry jest!

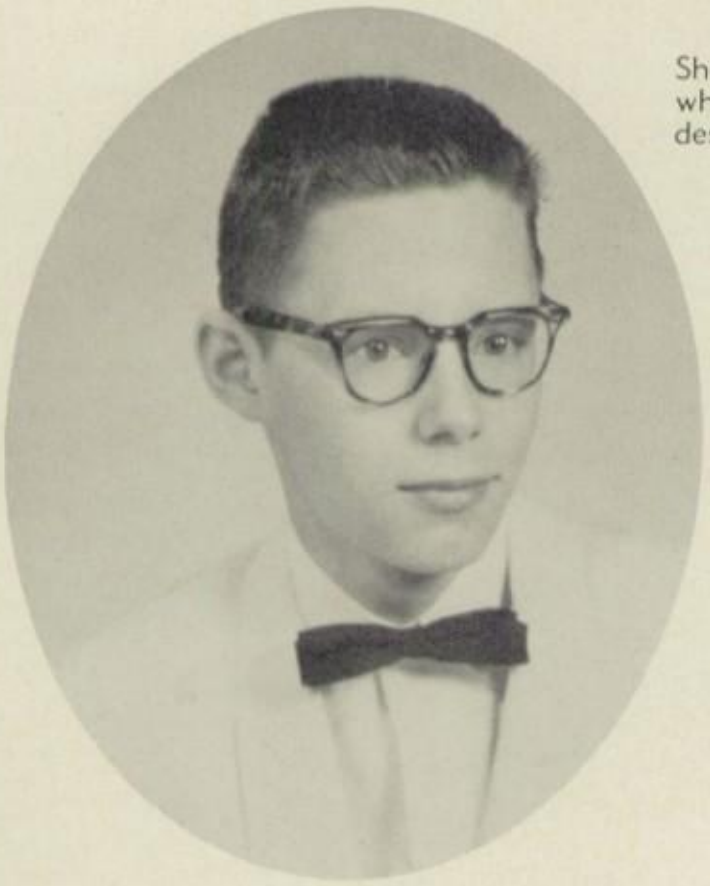


Zeb Marion Harry, Jr.
Born with the gift of laughter and the sense that the world is mad.

Henry Meek Hawkins, Jr.
Humor is one of the elements of genius.

Ruby Parrish Hartman
She does little kindnesses which most leave undone or despise.

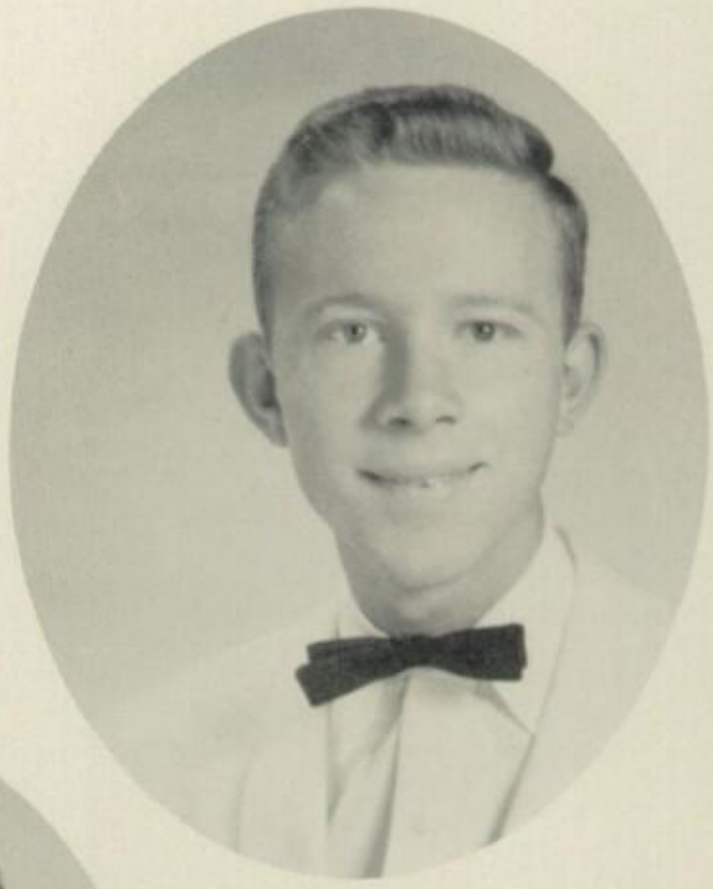
Lucille Henderson Head
If it is worth having, I will work for it.



Amelia Jane Heilig

A perfect woman, nobly planned.

To charm, enchant, and command.



Henry Epps Hilliard

He laughs so much, you think he's all fun.

The angels laugh, too, and look at the good they've done.

Senior

Sarah Catherine Holsclaw

A jolly, unselfish personality is the greatest gift of all.

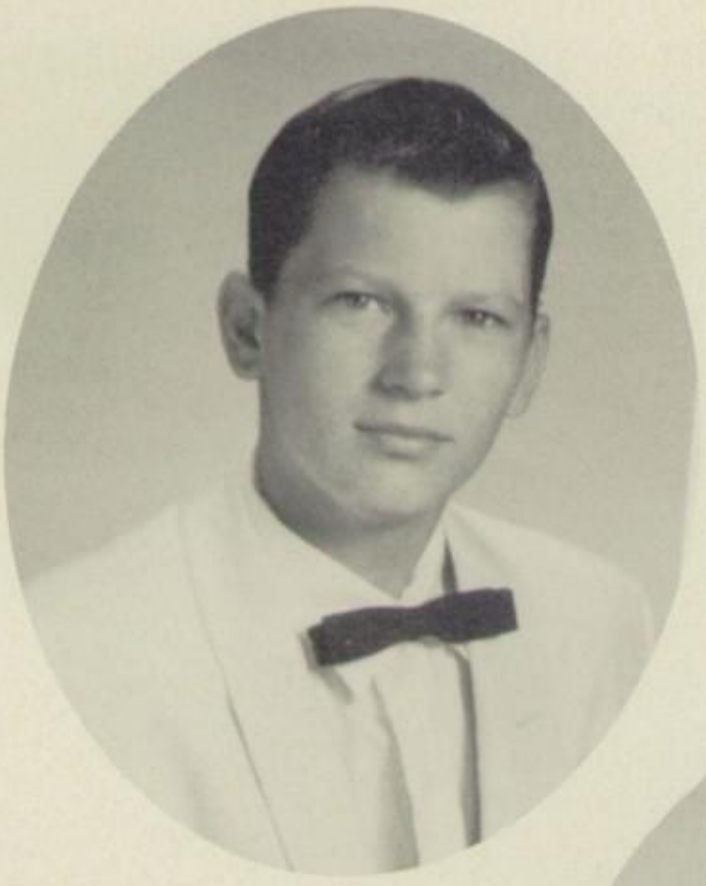
Sarah Katherine Hinson

As well be out of the world as out of fashion.

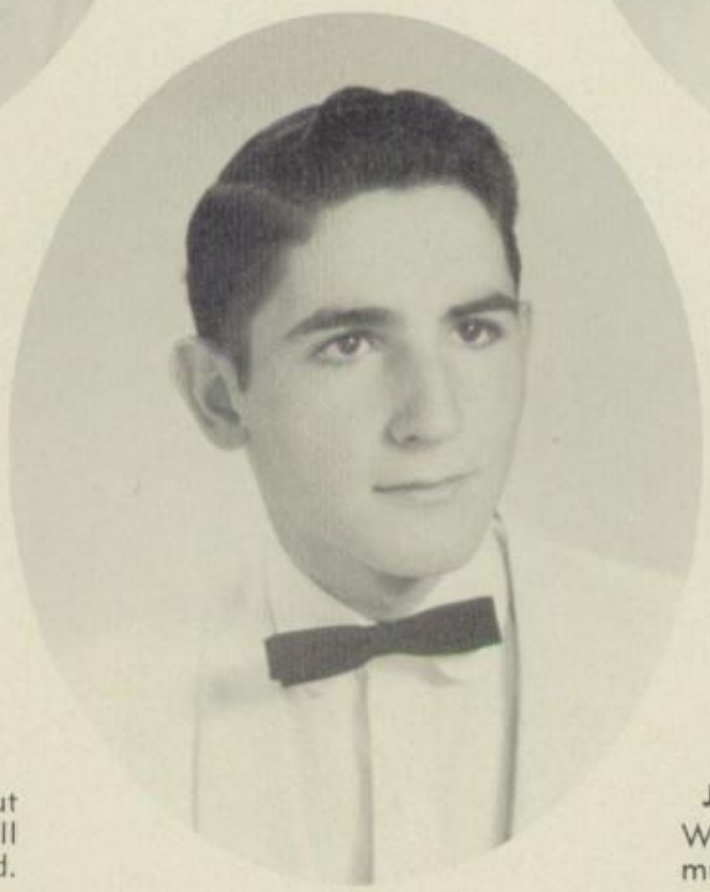
Doshie Josephine Honeycutt

If you smile, the world smiles with you.

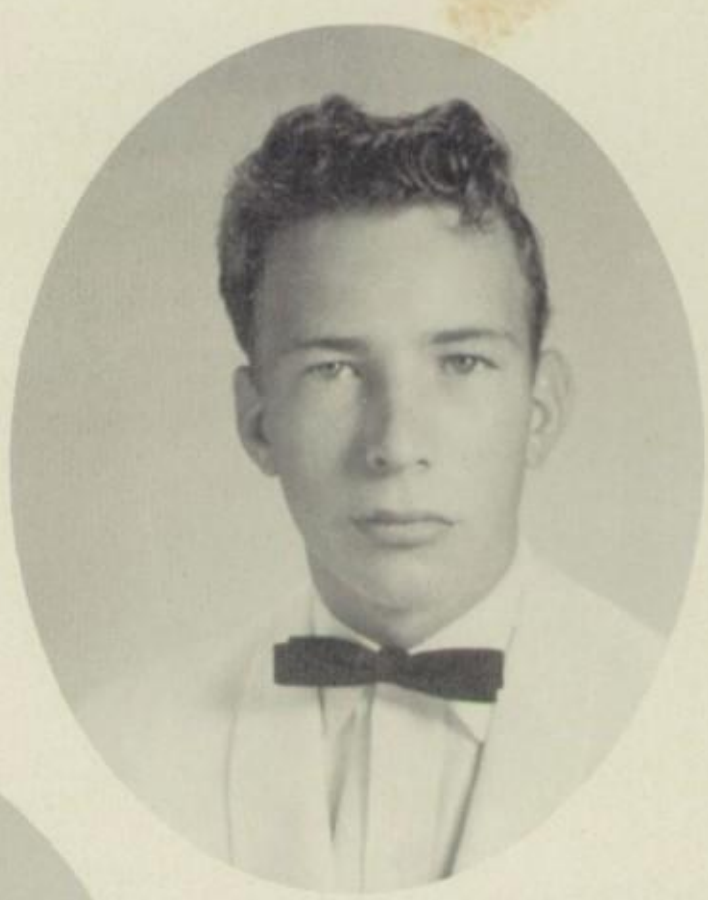
Class



William Martin Honeycutt
He is small, but that does not cramp his style.

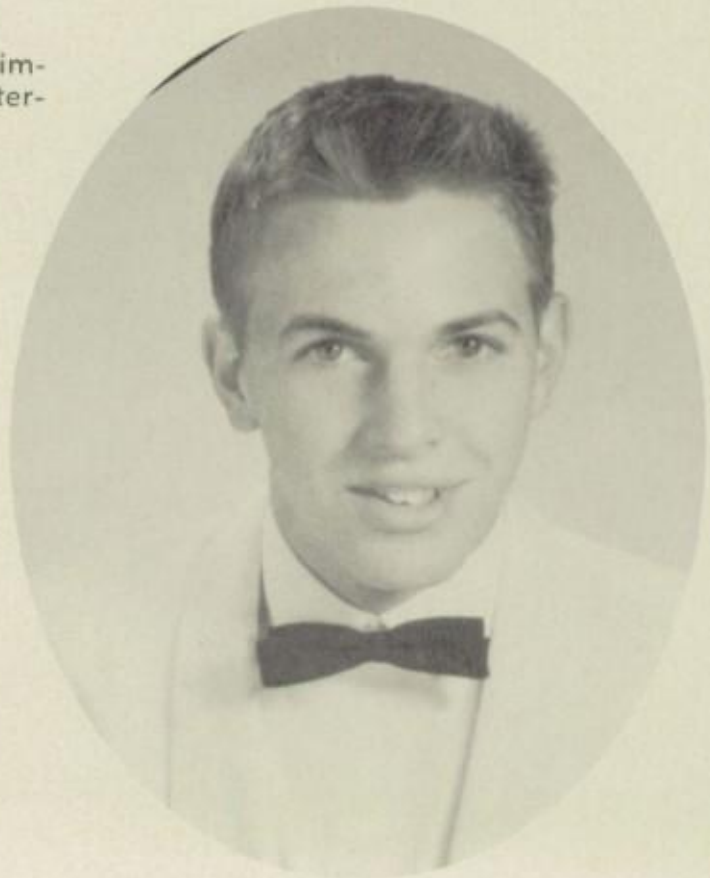


Robert Wayne Hunt
What a man thinks of himself, that it is which determines his fate.



Carl Thomas Hood
A cheerful man is always king.

Geraldine Ingold
She has a casual ease about her manner that sets us all at ease when she's around.



John Henry Isenhour, Jr.
Whoso would be a man, must be a nonconformist.

Thomas Lee Isenhour
In thy face I see the map of honour, truth, and loyalty.

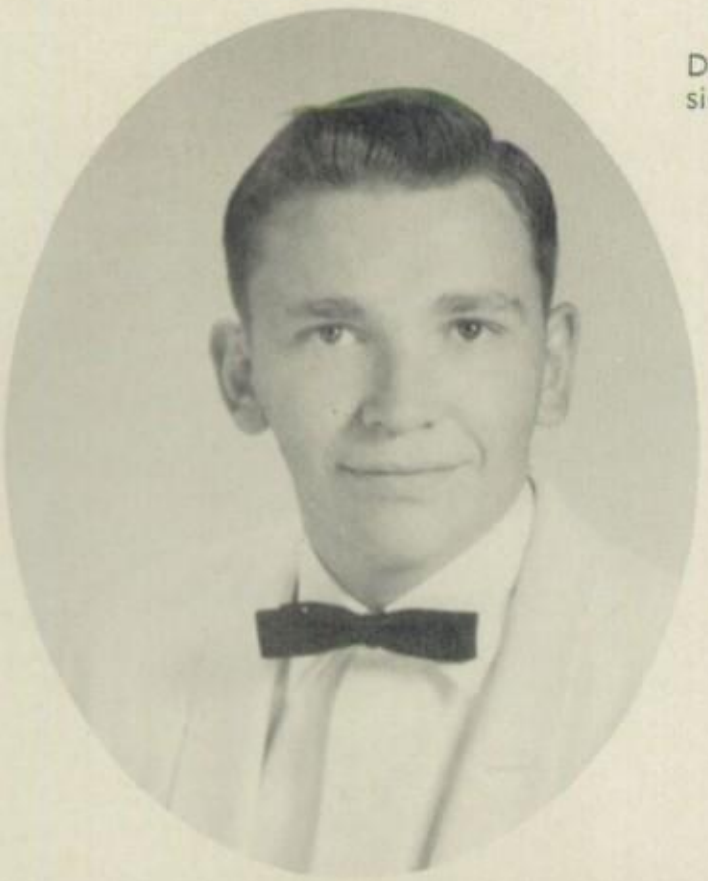
Anne Lovella Jackson
Without love and laughter there is no joy.

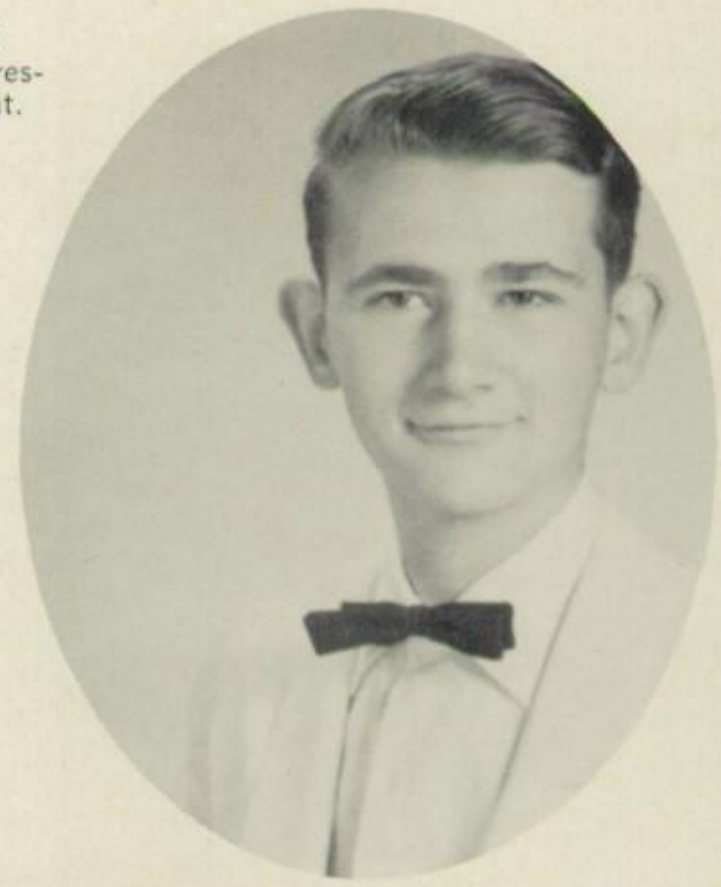
Senior

Henry Carlisle Jowers, Jr.
Good nature is worth more than knowledge.

George Barrett Julian
Every man has his gift, and his is the love of fun.

Carol Elizabeth James
Dancing is an active expression of the mind's delight.





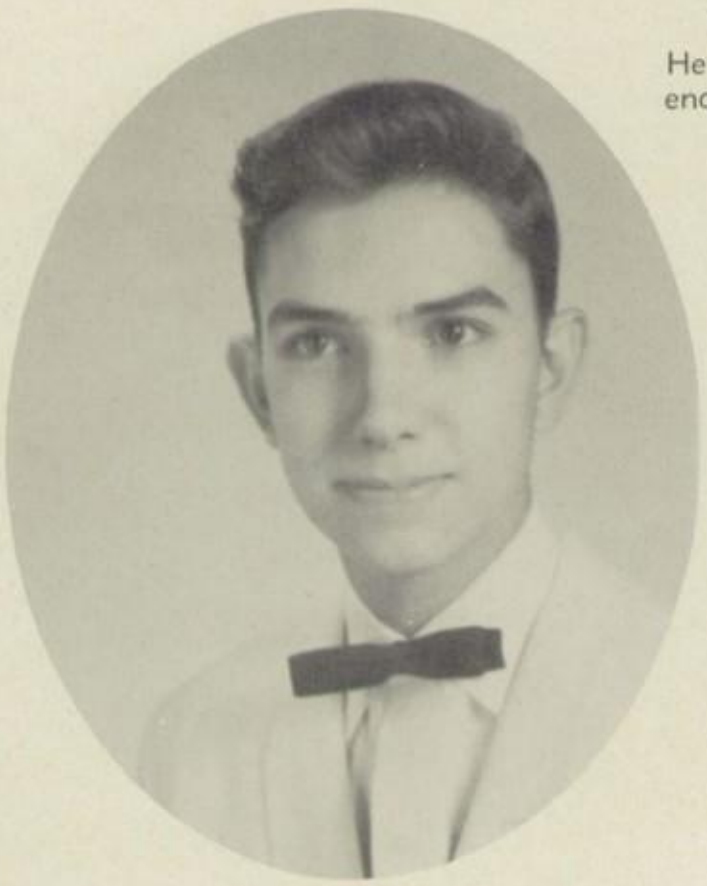
Class

Janet Allen Julian
A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance.

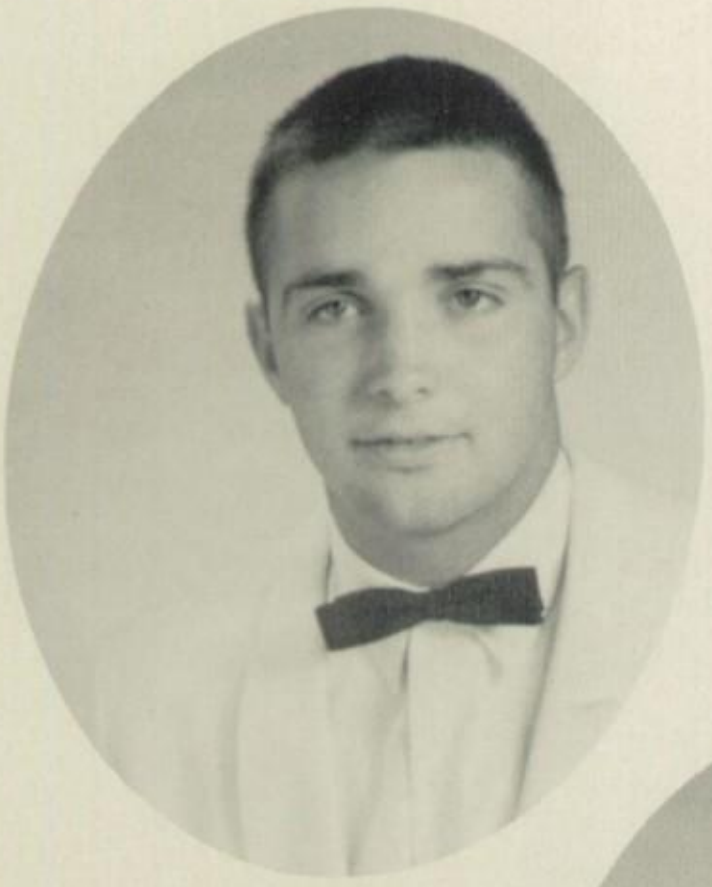
George Wesley Kesler
He that is content hath enough.

Julia Ann Kesler
So much wit and so much fun that she's a joy just to have near.

William Eskridge King
His words are bonds, his oaths are oracles, his love sincere, his thoughts immaculate.



Doris June Kirk
She has abundant good nature and a sunny smile.



Gilbert Craig Kluttz
Try my courage by combat if thou darest.

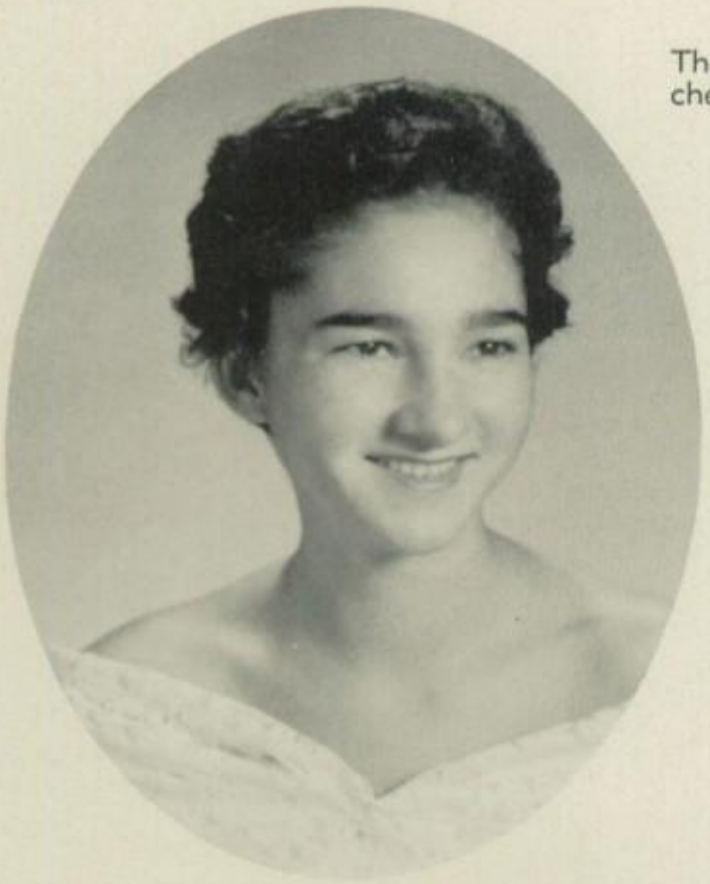
Bobby Jarrell Lancaster
Be content to seem what you are.

Senior

Phyllis Jo Leazer
A big heart, wishing to do right and be a friend to all.

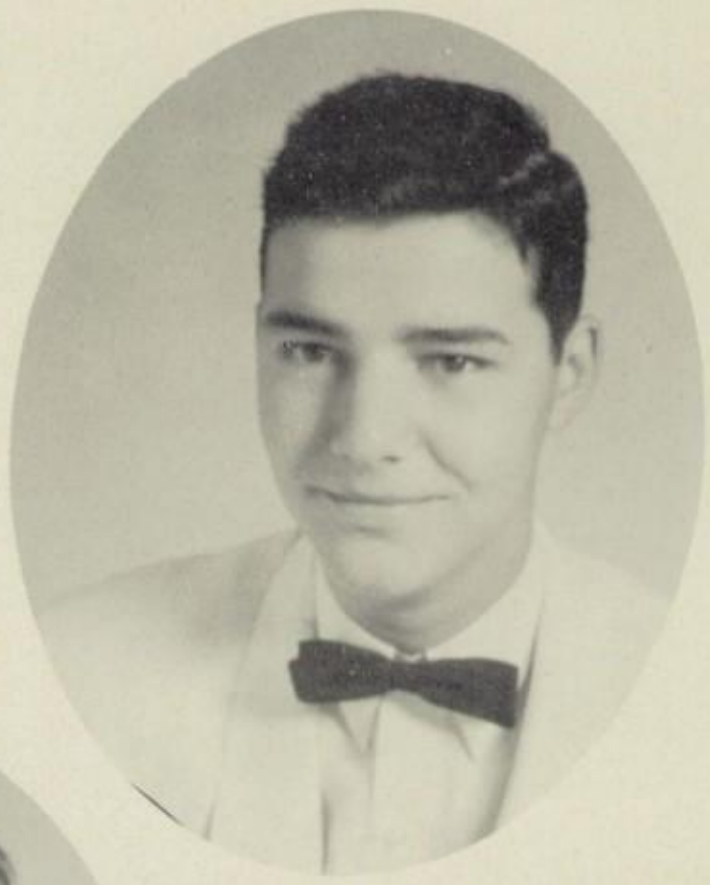
Carol Lee Leonard
And she's of a very jolly nature.

Kenneth Lauder
That which benefits us is cheerfulness and courage.



Class

Margaret Ann Lilly
When you dance I wish that you might ever do nothing but that.

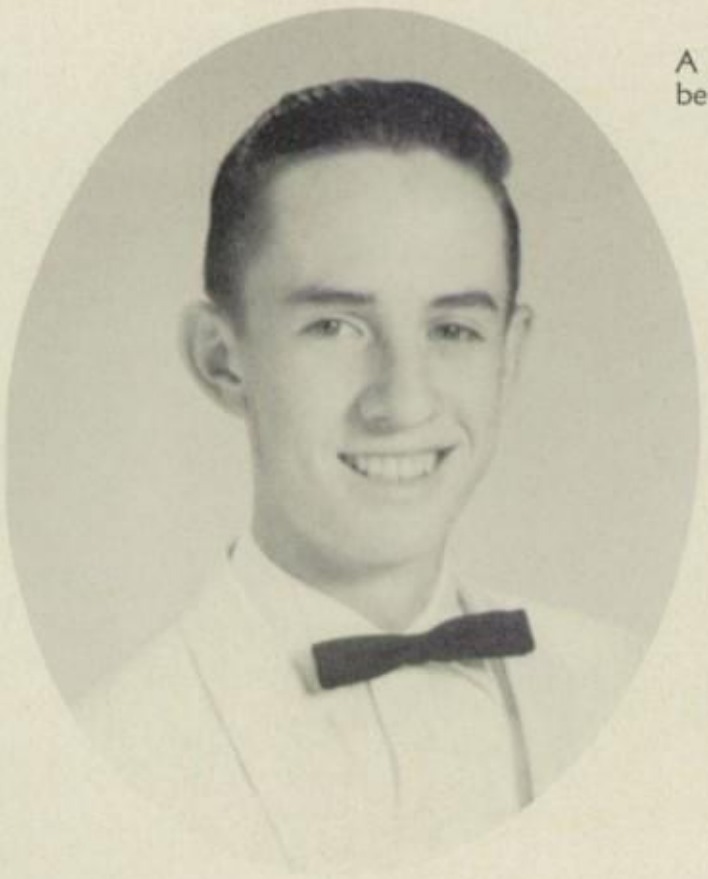


John Barry Link
Every man has his gift, and he is exceptionally blessed with music.

Jacob Chalmers Ludwig, Jr.
What he will, he will, and you may depend on it.

Ethel Mae Little
A quiet attitude that well becomes a woman.

Carolyn Cherry McCanless
Although she's not so tall, remember the atom is very small.



Nancy Lee McCartney
Beautiful in form and feature—lovely as the day.

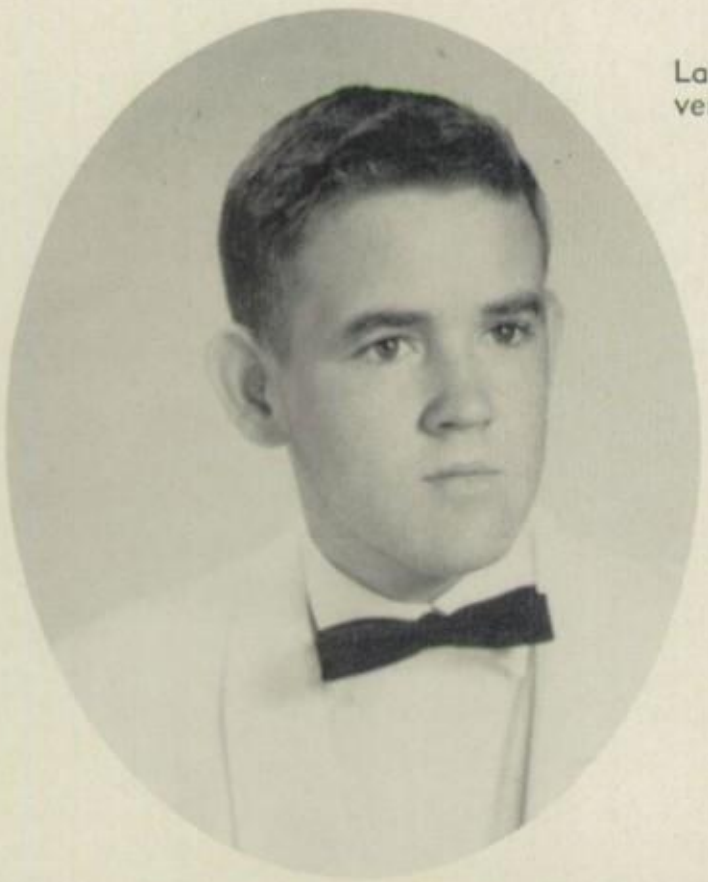
Margaret Whitmel McLarty
They serve God well who serve his creatures.

Senior

George Thomas Miggins
Life is a jest, and all things show it.
I thought so once, and now I know it.

Diana Miller
She has a natural pleasantness that you so seldom find.

Katurah May Mesimer
Laughter is the joyous, universal evergreen of life.

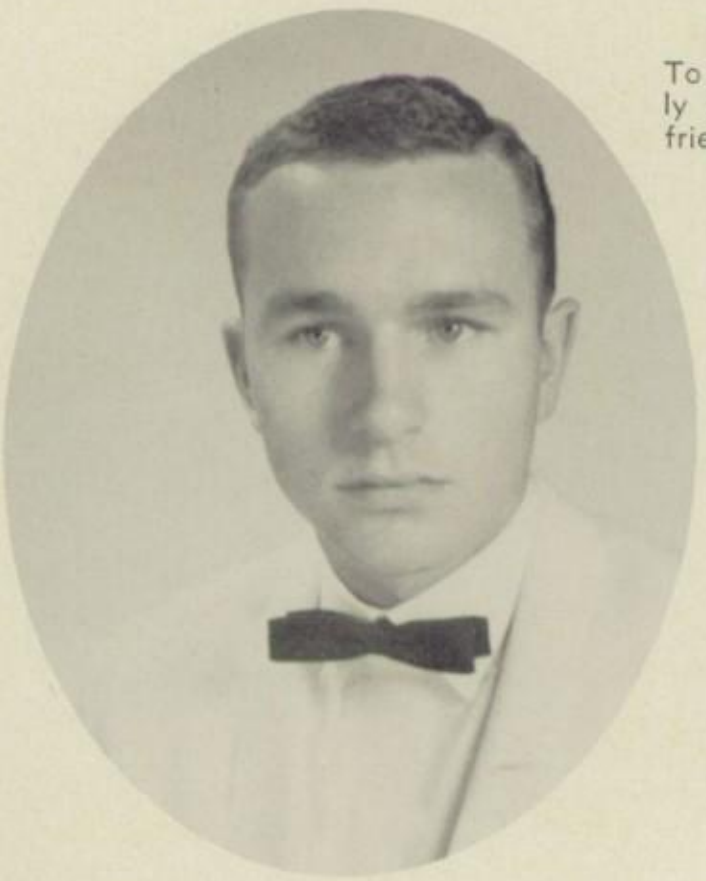


Frances Ann Miller
True to her works, her words, her friends.

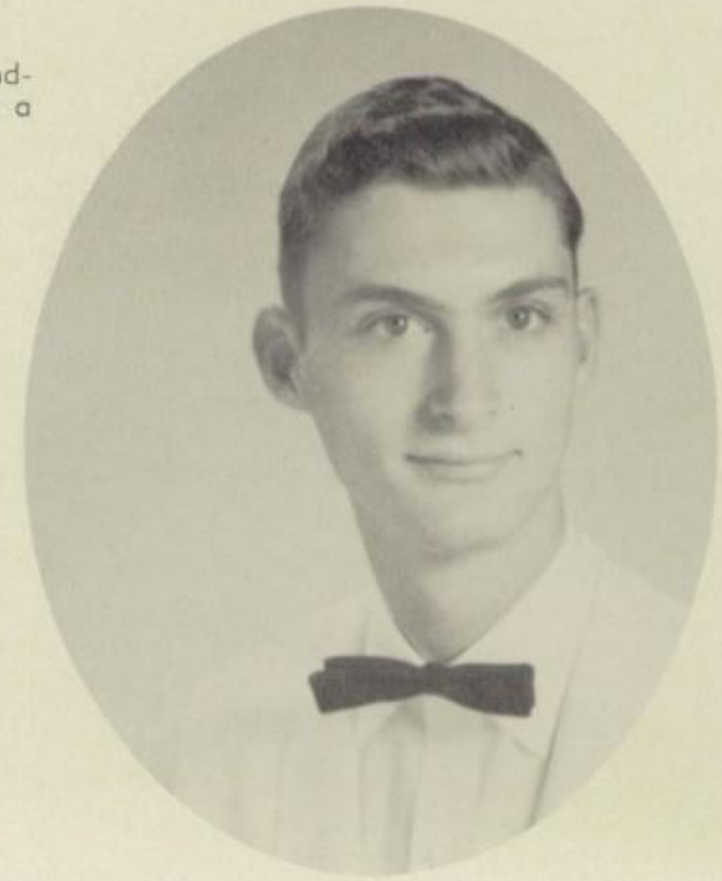
LaSelle Thompson Miller
A girl worth knowing with a smile and kind word for all.

Class

Lily Elizabeth Miller
To make the world a friendly place, she shows to it a friendly face.



William Reid Monroe
Do not care how many, but whom, you please.



Franklin Moyle Montgomery
Speak in French when you can't think of the English for a thing.

Dorothy Frances Moore
Remember this; that very little is needed to make a happy life.

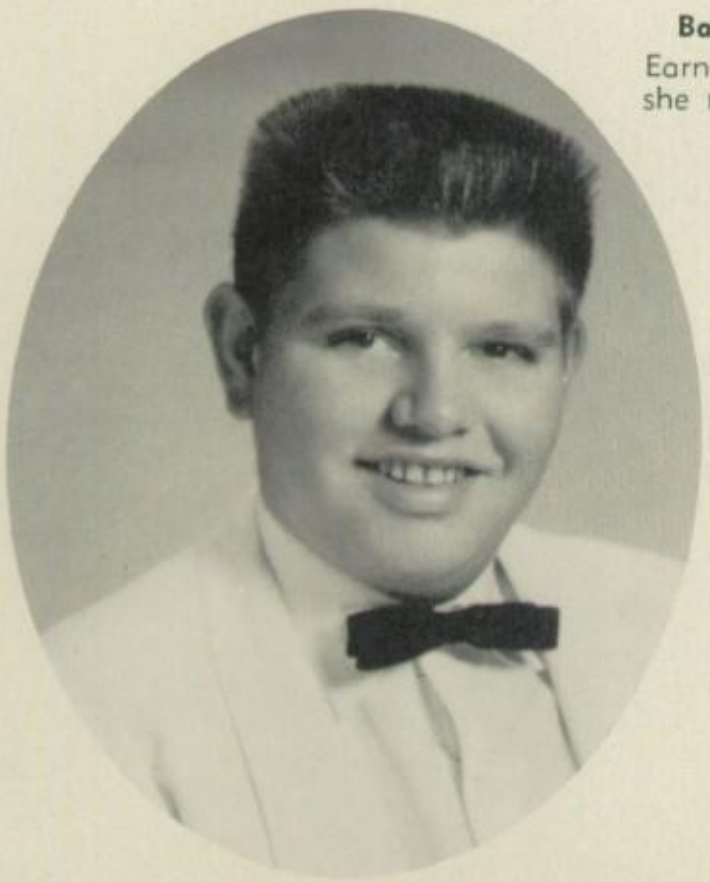
Joyce Irene Moore
Life is not life at all without a delight.

Senior

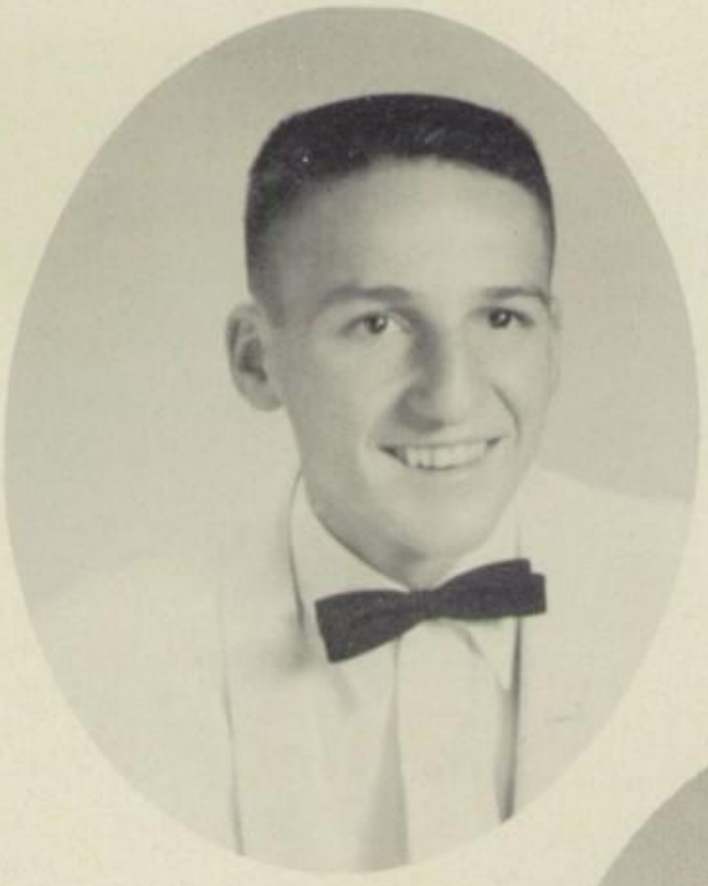
Larry Thomas Morris
The word impossible is not in my vocabulary.

Barbara Jeanne Morgan
Earnest and diligent in all she must do.

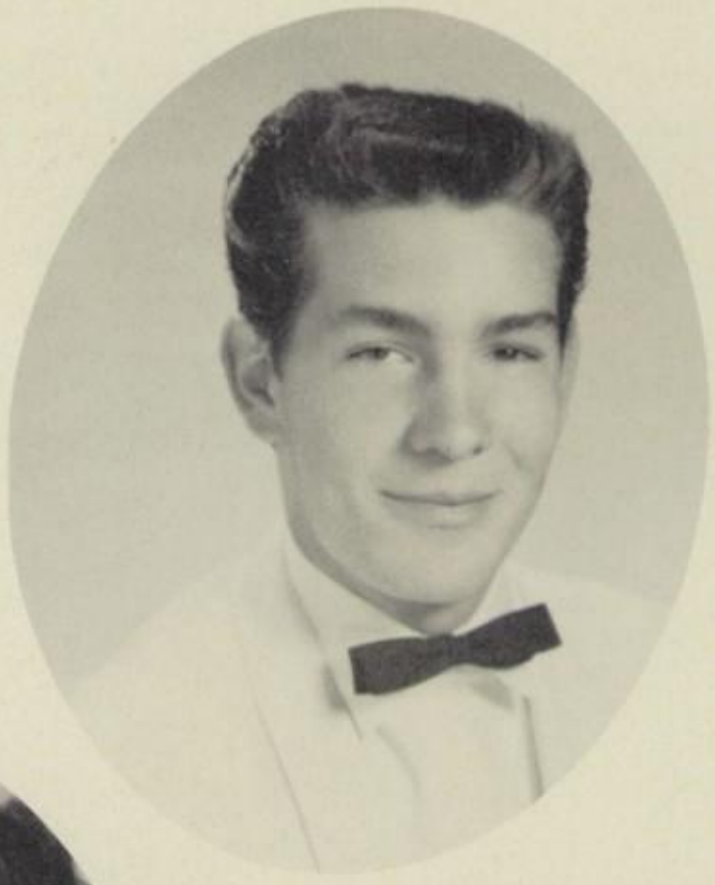
Nancy Cordon Morris
She is capable of imagining all, of arranging all, and doing everything.



Class



Sammy Lee Murphy
The reward of duty done is the power to fulfill another.



James David Neal
I dare a little more as I grow older.

Lois Frances Nushan
She was always there when you needed someone to rely on.

Elizabeth Ann Newsom
She possesses an unusual degree of that intangible asset called personality.

Anne Louise O'Neal
'Twas her thinking of others that made you think of her.

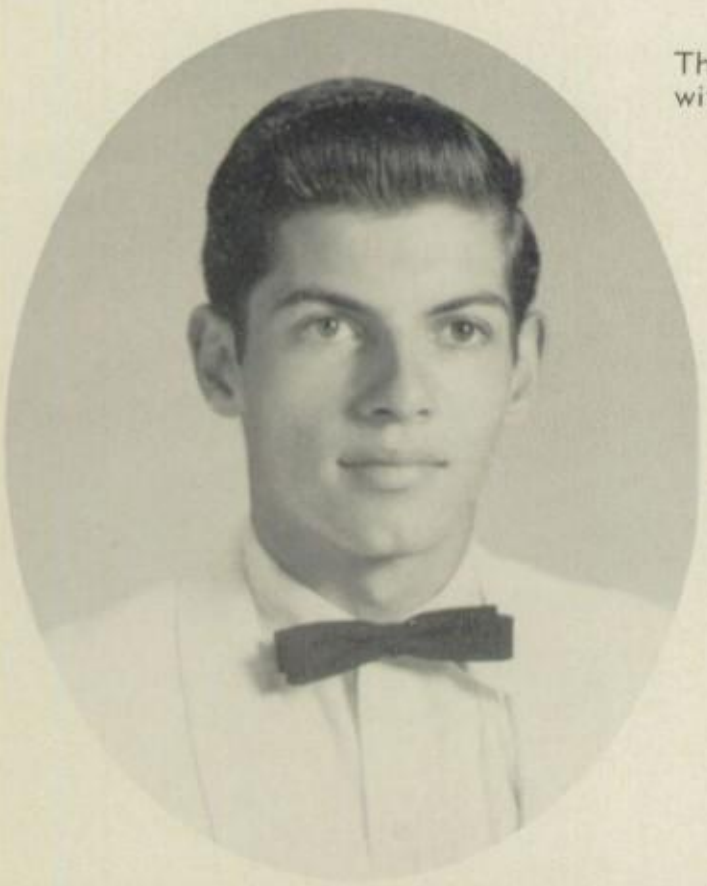
Betty Sue Page
A combination of brown eyes, mischief, and pep.

Claudia Louise Parrish
Her loveliness I never knew until she smiled on me.

Reid Barnes Patterson
There is no great genius without a touch of madness.

Senior

John Scott Peeler
Man is man, and master of his fate.

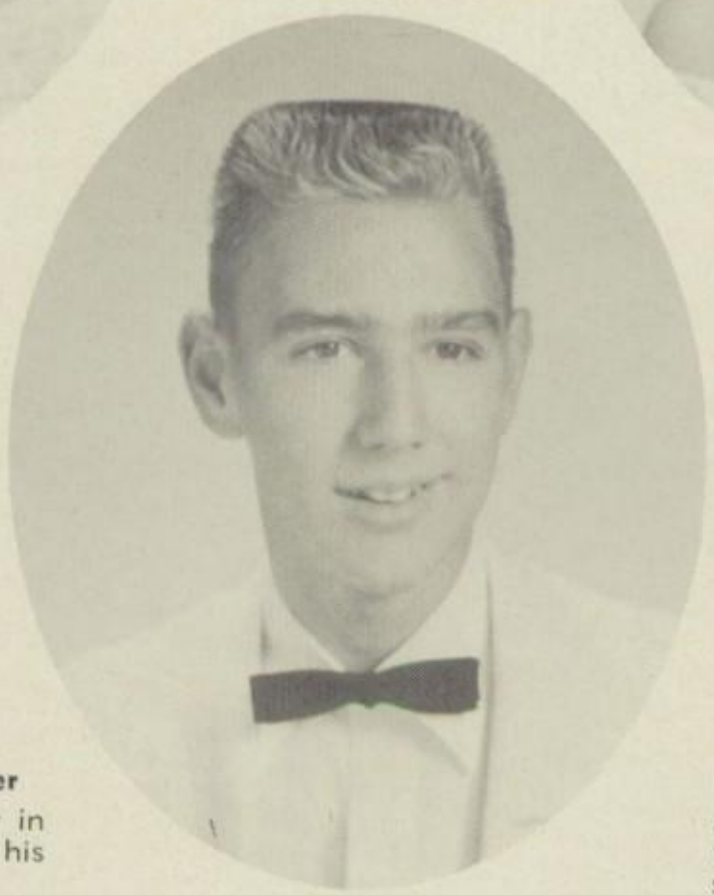


Delores Jean Pettit
Wisdom and goodness are twin-born; one heart must hold both, never seen apart.

Sally Geneva Pierce
Sometimes quiet, then full of fun;
She lights our day as does the sun.

Janiece Virginia Pittman
So absolute she seems; in herself complete; and knows that which she wills to do or say.

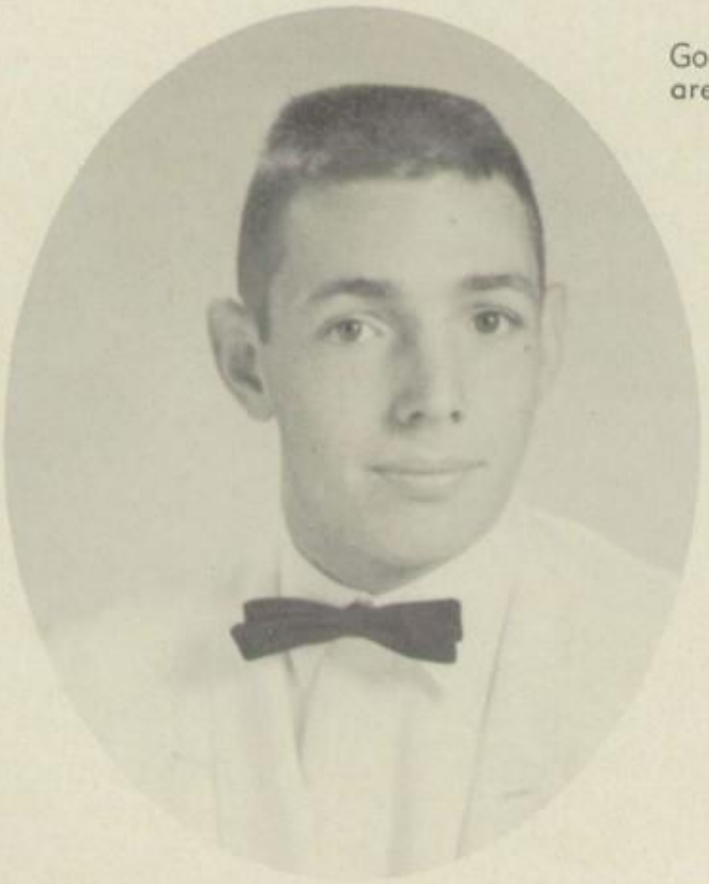
Class



Marvin Edward Plummer
The superior man is slow in his words and earnest in his conduct.

John Hood Plant
Good sense and good nature are never separated in him.

Sue Carole Porter
Mind cannot follow it, nor words express her infinite sweetness.



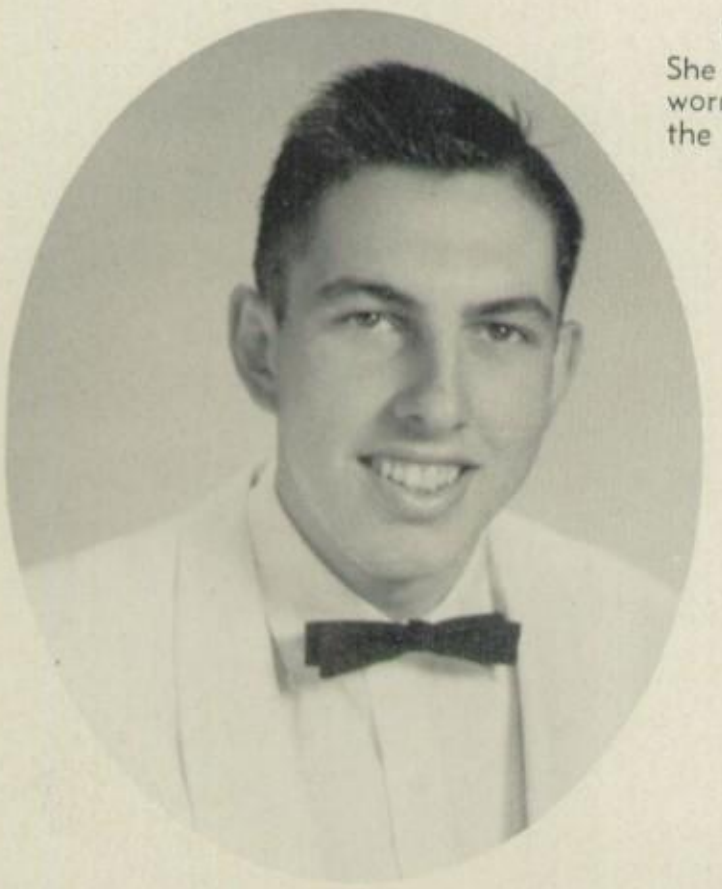
Mary Frances Prevette
The fountain of beauty is the heart and every generous thought flows from it.

William David Randall
Life is my college. May I graduate well, and earn some honors.

Sylvia Ann Ratledge
She never hurries or ever worries, but carefully does the task required of her.

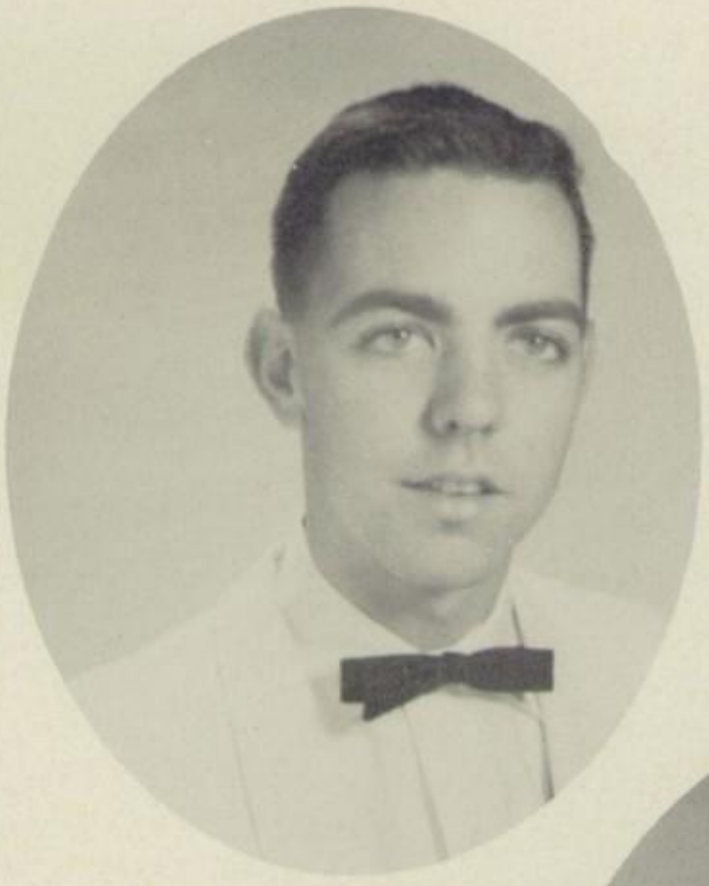
Senior

Mickey Robert Reid
He prefers friends to kings.

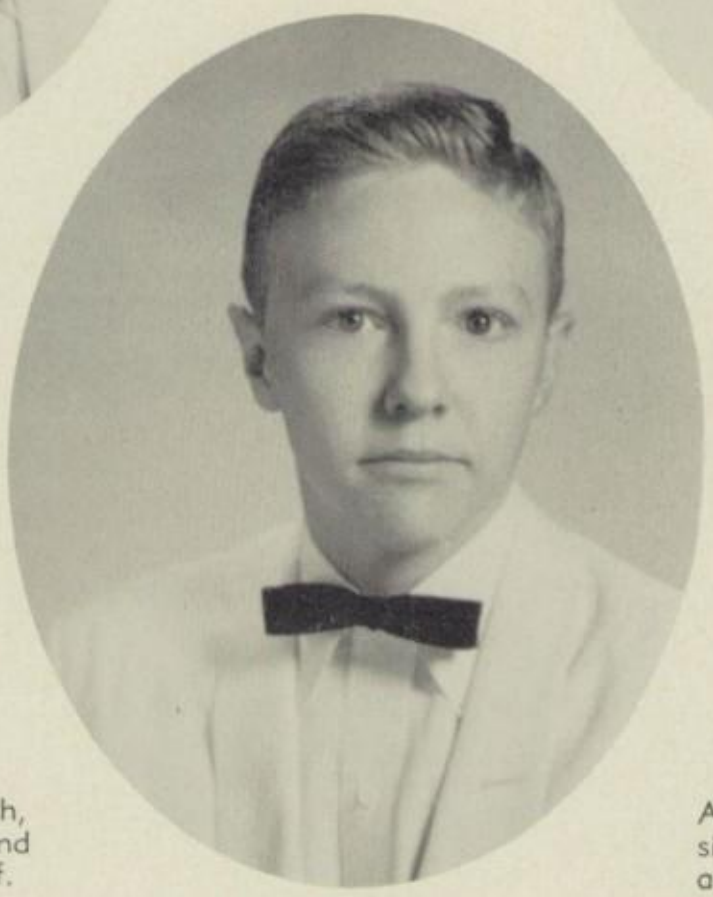


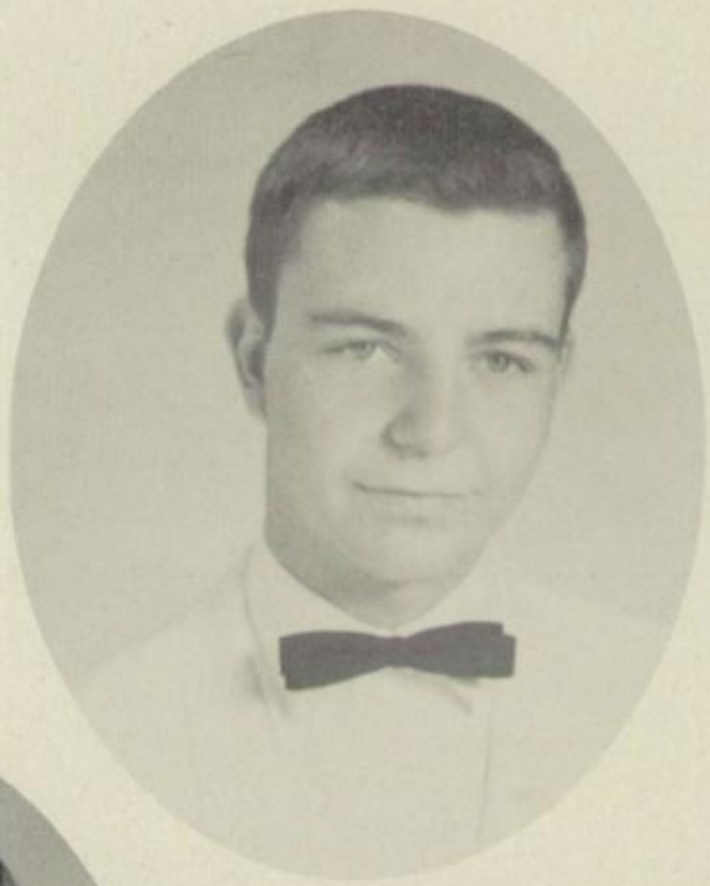
Donald Eugene Rink
Full of great aims and bent on bold enterprise.

Class



Charles Thomas Roakes, Jr.
Skill to do comes from doing.





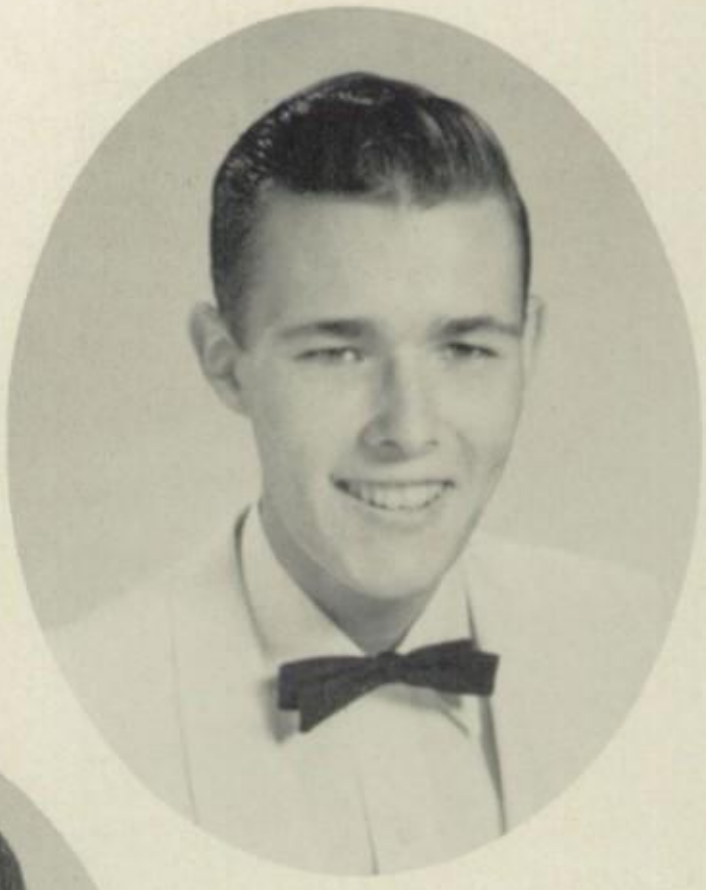
Robert Monroe Rodgers
He was not merely a chip off the old block, but the old block itself.

Billie Jane Ruth
She's pretty to walk with, and witty to talk with and pleasant, too, to think of.

Henry Edward Rufty, III
An acrobat must be aware of the chances he takes.

Marilyn Ann Rufty
A deep, genuine, heartfelt sincerity is a trait of true and noble womanhood.

Marian Rebecca Saleeby
And what she dares to dream, she dares to do.



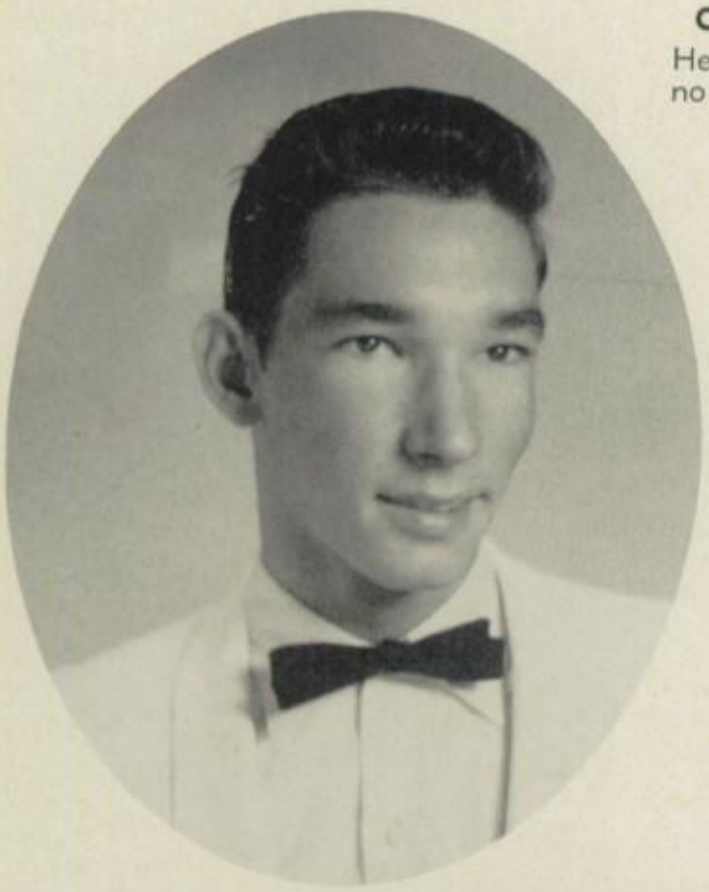
Joseph David Schofield, Jr.
A little nonsense now and then is relished by the best of men.

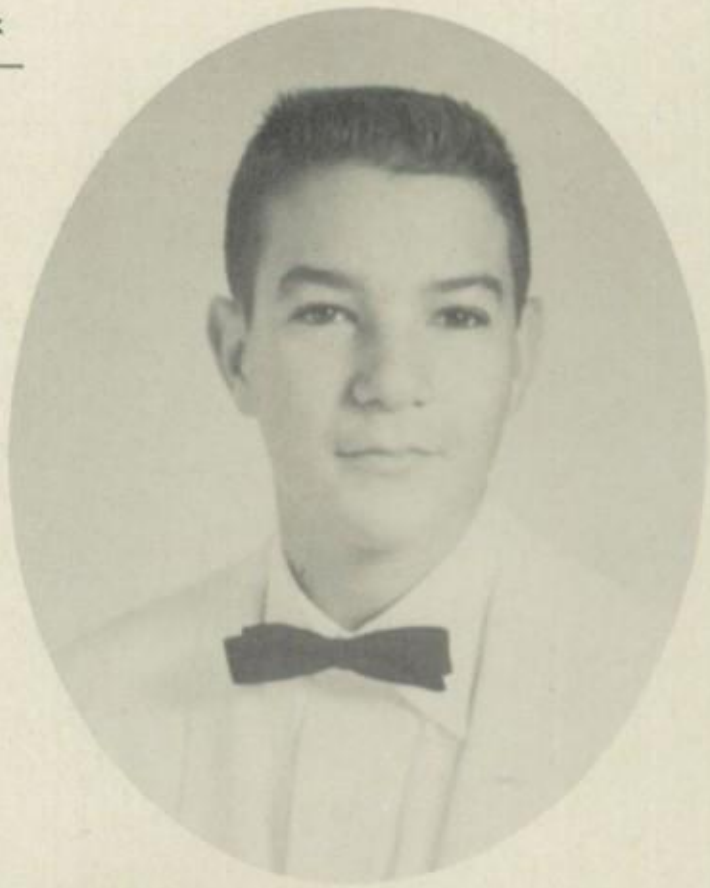
Senior

Edward Jerry Shank, Jr.
Think to be happy; to be great, have wisdom.

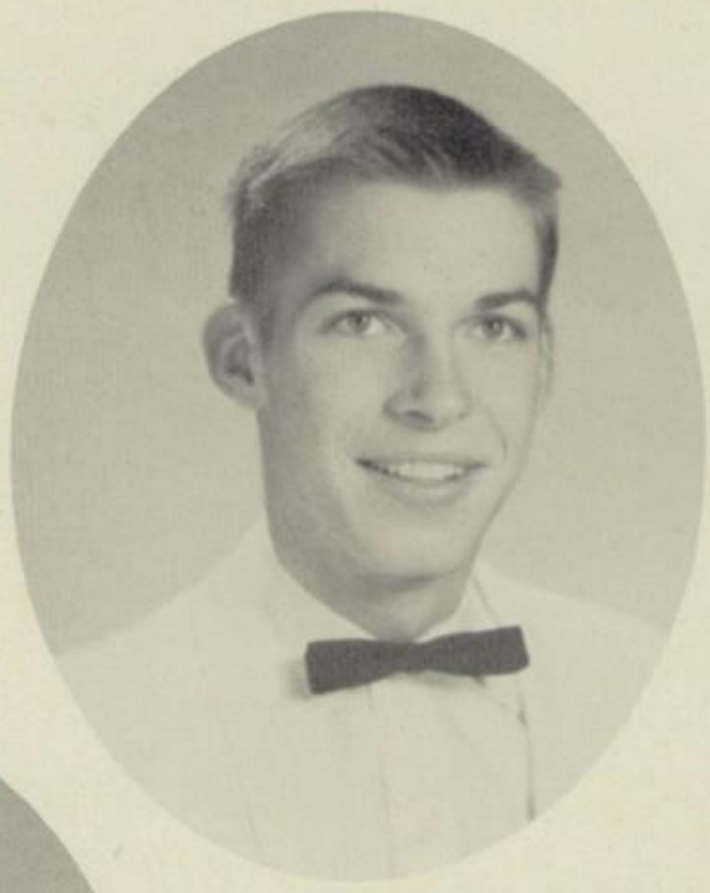
Clarence Wayne Shadrick
He'll find a way to do it—no matter what it is.

Jerry Michael Shupiro
Cute, witty, and full of fun, a friendly boy—he's all in one.





Katherine Raney Sheehan
A witty girl, full of fun and laughter.



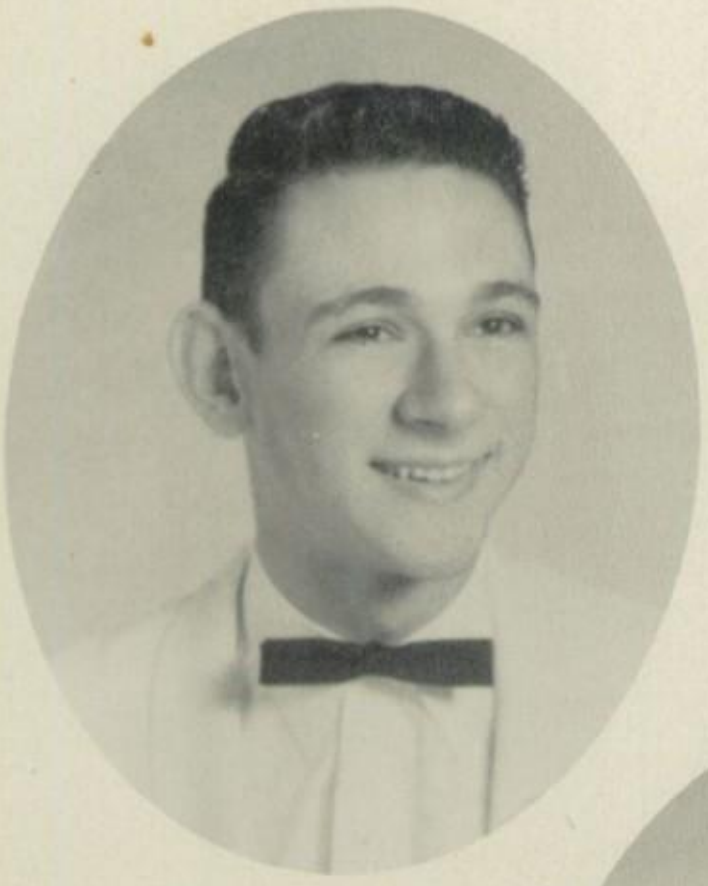
William T. Shuford, Jr.
The difficult I do immediately; the impossible takes a little longer.

Class

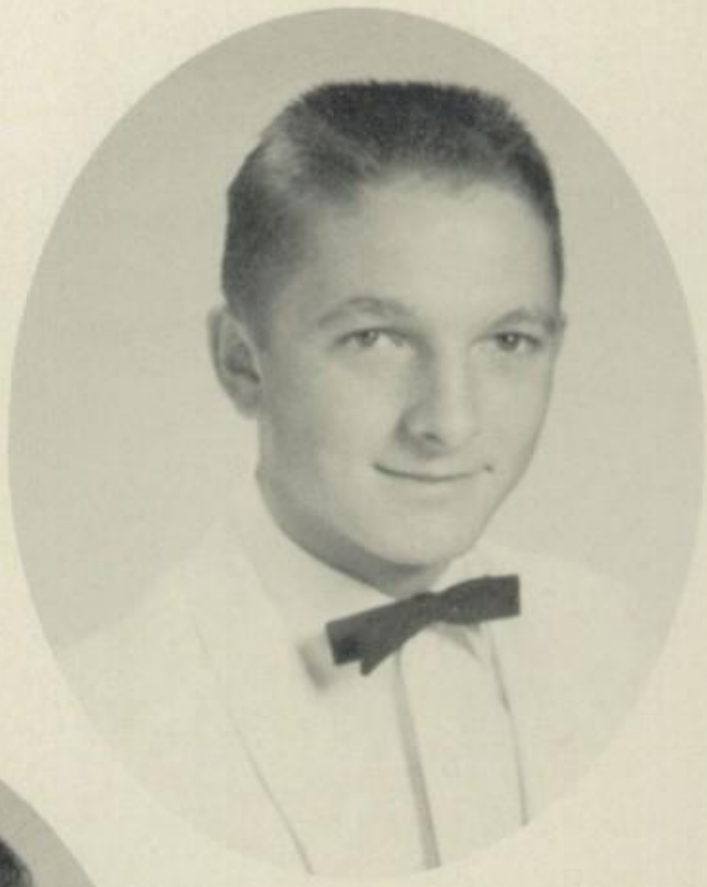
Eleanor Camille Sims
There is no genius in the world like the genius of energy and activity.

Robert Fisher Shuping, Jr.
He is a fool who cannot be angry; but he is a wise man who will not.

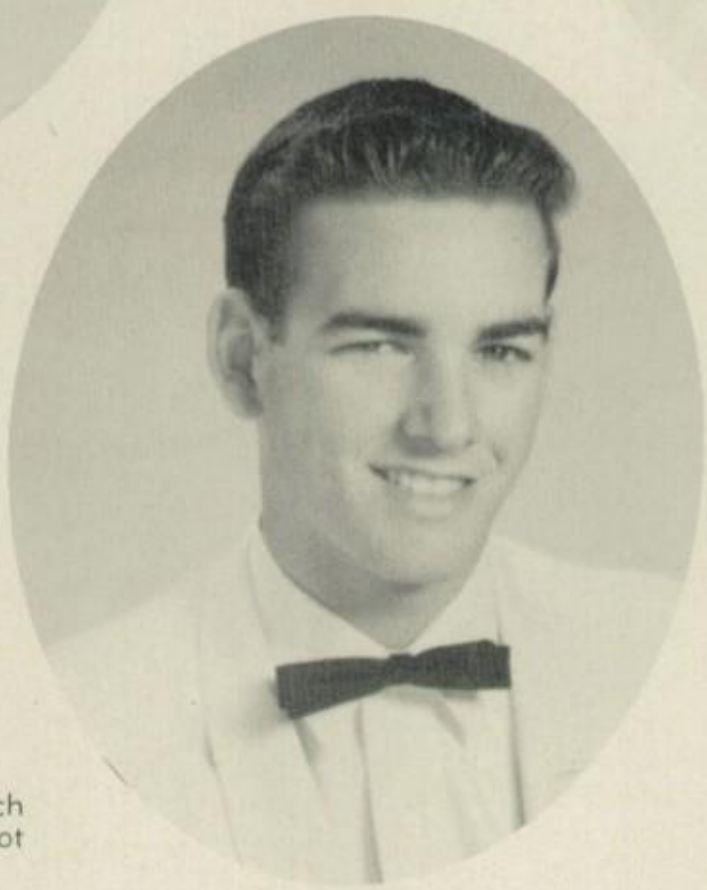
Martha Robert Sink
An athlete with a mighty spirit to play to win.



Robert Gibbs Smith
His voice is the index to his personality.



Sydney George Sowers
Ambition is the germ from which all growth of nobleness proceeds.

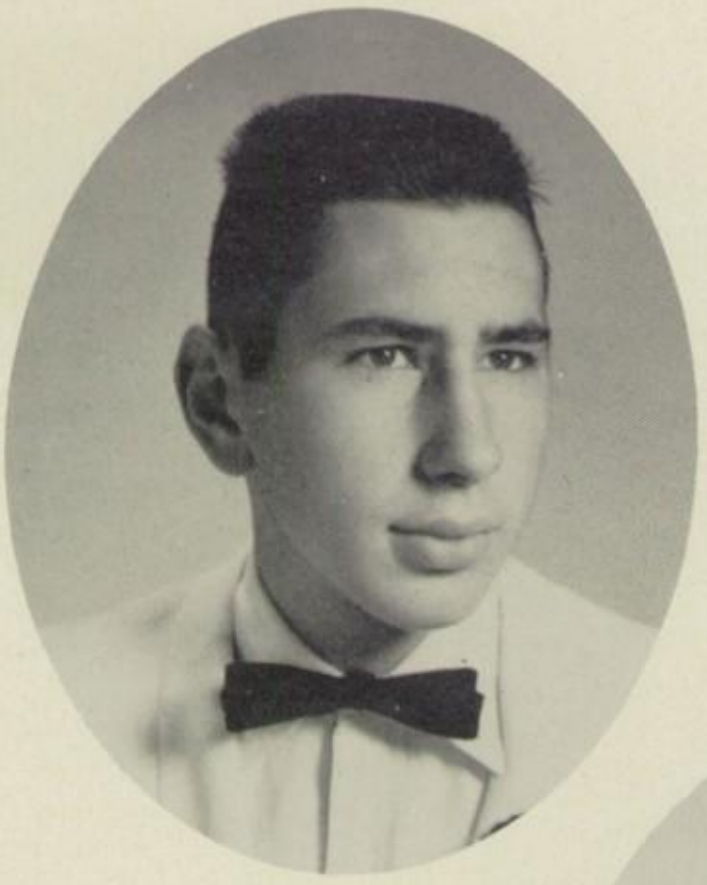


Donald Byron Stafford
A woman would run through fire and water for such a man.

Senior

Buena Rose Still
Nothing ever succeeds which exuberant spirits have not helped to produce.

Joyce Ann Stiller
Happiness is a habit with her.



Carson Leonard Stoner

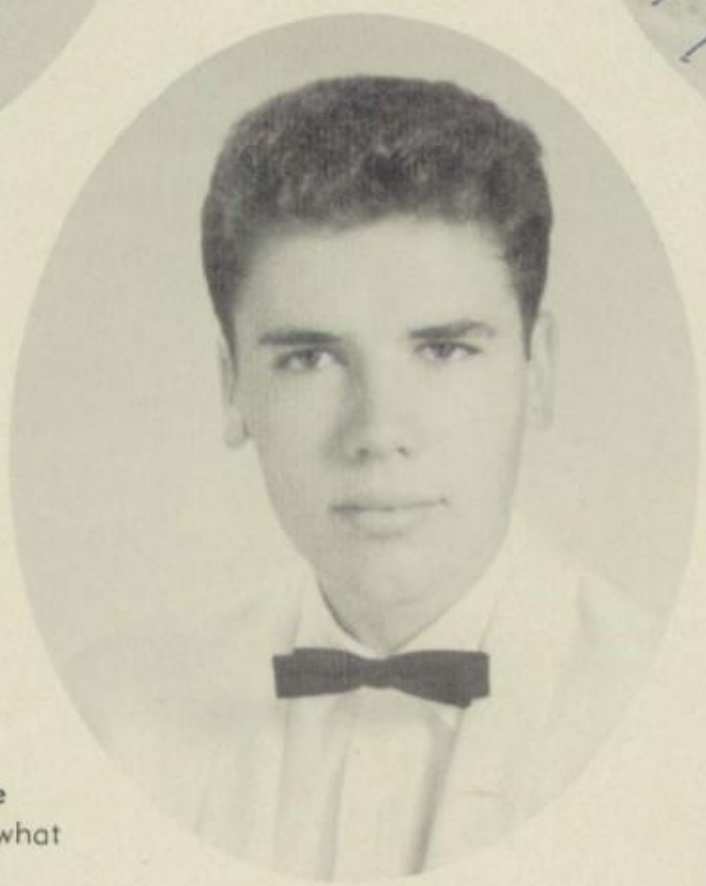
'Tis not what man does which exalts him, but what man could do.

The very best of luck to a very sweet girl. Love Always Billie Ann

Billie Ann Summers

A smile for all, a greeting glad, a jolly way she had.

Class



Worth Alfred Sweet, Jr.

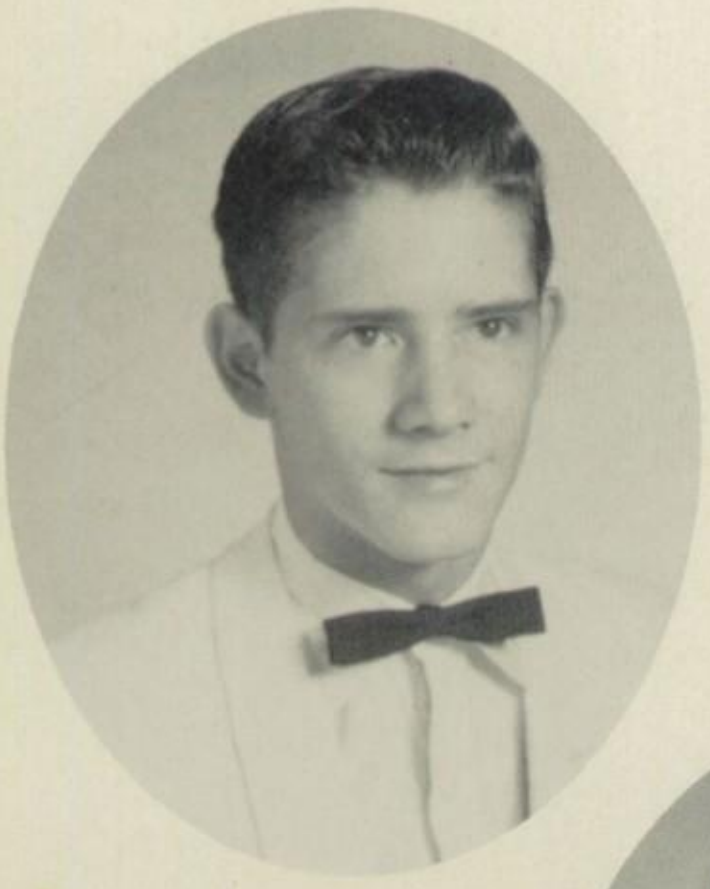
It is well for one to know more than he says.

Frances Lee Torrence

Life and good living; what do we want besides.

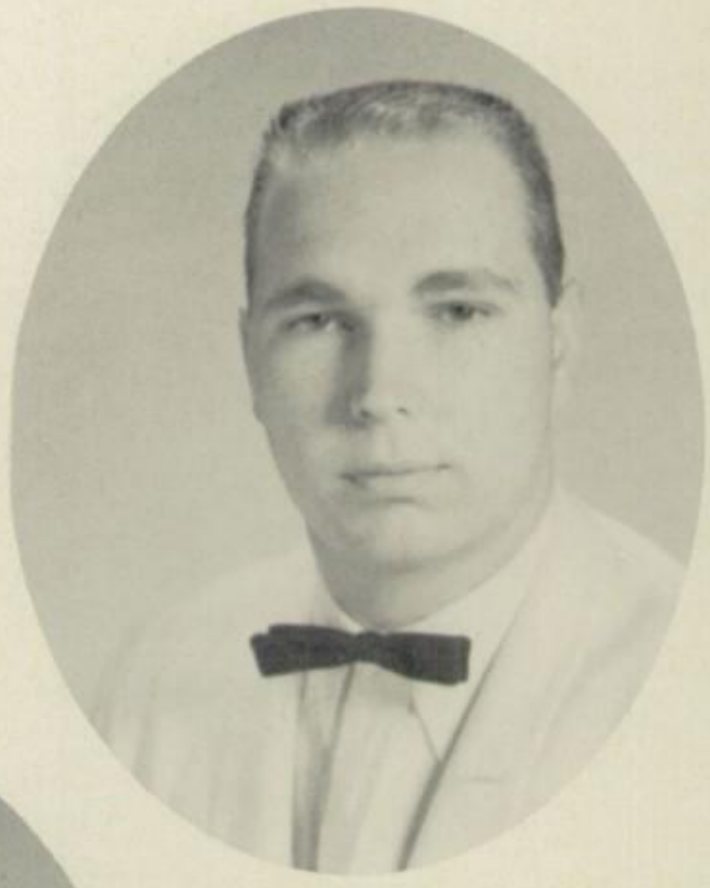
Phyllis Ann Tutterow

As pure in thoughts as angels are; to know her was to love her.



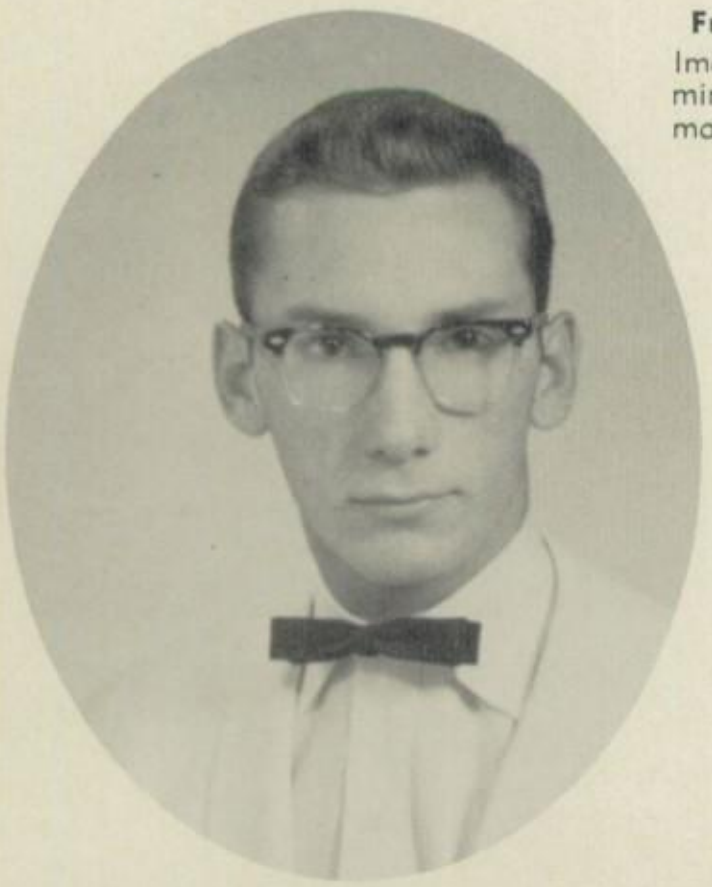
James Lee Vickers
He who binds his soul to knowledge steals the key to heaven.

Frances Barbour Wagoner
Imagination is the art of mind at which she's quite a master.



Charles Robert Wagoner
A little work, a little fun.
I think life's okay.

Senior



Robert Henry Wakefield
Reason and calm judgement, the qualities belonging to a leader.

In Memory of

MR. JAMES R. MEDLOCK

"A great man has been called to his eternal reward. In his passing, those of us who have had the privilege of knowing him are poorer because we have lost a true and a great friend, but we are far richer because of the indelible stamp which his personality has left upon us.

Mr. Medlock was a great gentleman. He was profound in his simplicity and humble in his wisdom. He was kind in his forthrightness. He was devout in his little talked of, but deeply entrenched faith in God and man."

KITTY'S KORNER

It has been discovered that some of the Boyden freshmen used to think some very foolish things. Here are a few of them:

Genie Griggs—That the Johnny who called for Phillip Morris was a little lost boy calling for Phillip Morris to come and save him.

Sally Seibert—The ocean was surrounded by trees.

As we grow in character we learn to strive for citizenship.
We learn to reach our goals by fusing our abilities, ideas, and faith into constructive service.

We learn to serve others as well as enrich our spirit.

We learn to live cleaner lives as well as strengthen our faith.

We learn to respect our elders as well as command respect for ourselves.

This we learn to achieve together through our activities.

This is what activities mean to us.

THE 1956 HOMECOMING

KING
Doug Fulton

QUEEN
Rachel Allen

The word Homecoming had many meanings to Boyden students . . . the exciting competition over floats, the hope of winning the game, and the suspense of who would be Queen. Then the magic night came and your room won the class prize; the game was exciting, and at the climax of our weeks of work and fun, "Pug" and Doug were crowned King and Queen of our 1956 Homecoming.

THE END

Rosie,
It has been
Loads of fun this year. Be good this summer. Remember
keep the good times
going, and the teachers running. Love ya,
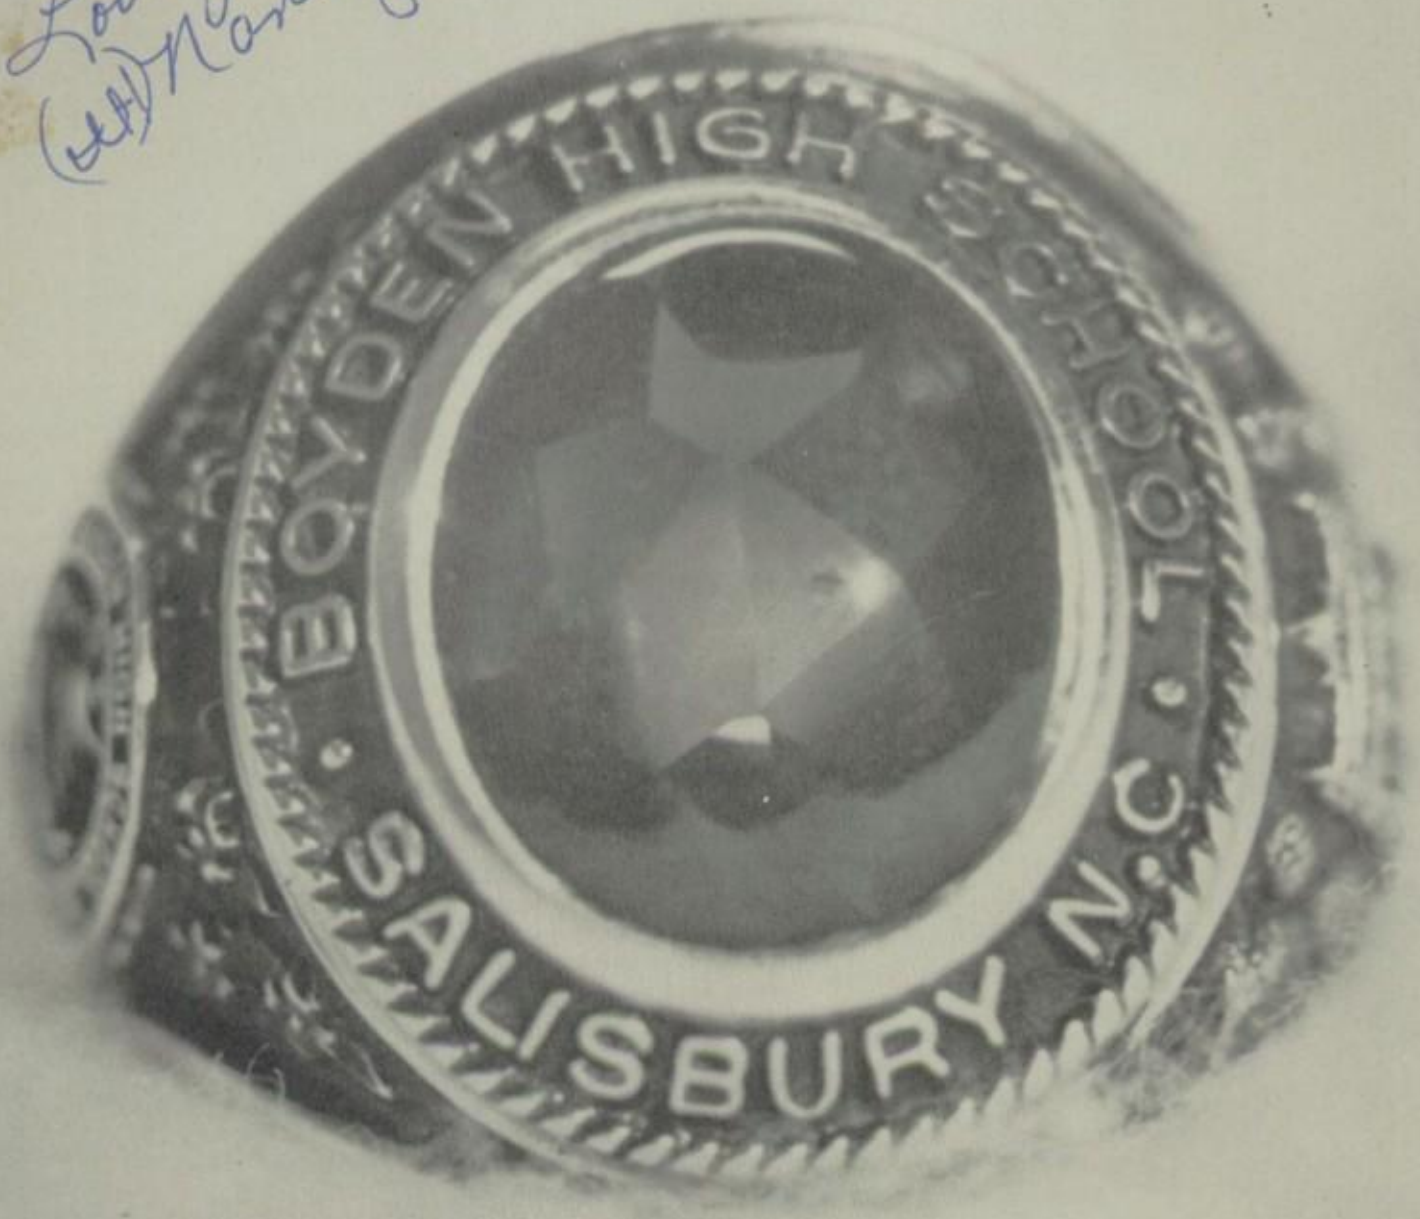
(Lil) Nancy a.

FORWARD, UPWARD—these words express the goal of each Boydenite.

FORWARD—never backward, never at a standstill, but always with our hearts and minds looking toward the future.

ONWARD—to improve mankind, his standards, his ideals. The Boydenite typifies progress. His never-dying enthusiasm symbolizes America and each individual's trek to a better, more peaceful tomorrow.



TO SUCCEED—as citizens of our community, our nation, and the world. To make a contribution, according to our own abilities, to improve ourselves and our surroundings.

So we close the door to the past and begin the climb up the staircase of the future as we search for new and better horizons.

"Renie",
I have really enjoyed
this year, haven't you?
Don't ever forget dear old miss Johnson and Mr.
Gregory. Lots of luck to you in the future.
Love Ya,
Marsha

Best of Luck
Tobey Lee

Renie
I have been pleasure to Lots of luck
a real sweet girl.
Your pal,
Lou Andrews

Renie,
I haven't known you very long, but I can say you are a very nice girl. All the luck!
Carolyn
Hughey

Renie, had lots of fun this year with you. maybe we can play badminton some this summer. Best of luck, to my worst friend. Just kidding! Love, MaryAnne

Renie,
I've sure had fun with you in homeroom this year! Stay as sweet, cute, + full of fun as you are now, and you'll be a big success always. See ya around this summer!

Love 'n Luck
to a cute girl
Nancy

Renie,
Best of luck to a nice girl. I'll always remember you as a sweet and sincere girl. Love ya!
